By ROB. J. CULVERWELL, M. D.
Author of the "Green Book," &c.

The world-renowned author, in this admirable Lecture, clearly proves from his own experience that the awful consequences of Self-abuse may be effectually removed without medicine and without dangerous surgical operations, bougies, instruments, rings, or cordials, pointing out a mode of cure at once certain and effectual by which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately, and radically. This Lecture will prove a boon to thousands and thousands.

Drs. B. & R. are the men to consult, they are unquestionably acknowledged to be the champion and sole king of venereal diseases, and the only Doctors who receive monthly Reports from the old world; they have been educated from an early age of youth to witness the various diseases which afflict mankind, and to watch the progress, through a long career of professional study, in every sphere of life, from the humble abode of poverty to the mansions of the wealthy, and having ascertained beyond a doubt the vast suffering of humanity, they determined to select the generative system as their particular study, and to devote their whole attention to the alleviation of the diseases of these important functions. No letters will be answered unless they contain a remittance or a postage stamp.

THE
WORTHY OF ANY CONFIDENCE
FOR
THE BALD AND GRAY.

MANY, since the great discovery of Prof. Wood, have attempted not only to imitate his restorative, but profess to have discovered something that would produce results identical; but they have all come and gone, being carried away by the wonderful results of Prof. Wood's preparation, and have been forced to leave the field to its resistless sway. Read the following:

Bath, Maine, April 18th, 1859.
Prof. O. J. Wood & Co., Gents: The letter I wrote you in 1856 concerning your valuable Hair Restorative, and which you have published in this vicinity and elsewhere, has given rise to numerous inquiries touching the facts in the case. The inquiries are, first, is it a fact of my habitation and name, as stated in the communication; second, is it true of all therein contained; third, does my hair still continue to be in good order and of natural color? To all I can and do answer invariably yes. My hair is even better than in any stage of my life for 40 years past, more soft, thrifty, and better colored; the same is true of my whiskers, and the only cause why it is not generally true is that the substance is washed off by frequent ablution of the face, when if care were used by wiping the face in close connection with the whiskers, the same result will follow as the hair. I have been in the receipt of a great number of letters from all parts of New England, asking me if my hair still continues to be good; as there is so much fraud in the manufacture and sale of various compounds as well as this, it has no doubt been basely imitated and been used, not only without any good effect, but to absolute injury. I have not used any of your Restorative of any account for some months, and yet my hair is as good as ever, and hundreds have examined it with surprise, as I am now 61 years old and not a gray hair in my head or on my face; and to prove this fact, I send you a lock of my hair taken off the past week. I received your favor of two quart bottles last summer, for which I am very grateful. I gave it to my friends and thereby induced them to try it; many were skeptical until after trial, and then purchased and used it with universal success. I will ask you as a favor that you send me a test by which I can discover fraud in the Restorative, sold by many, I fear, without authority from you. A pure article will insure success, and I believe where good effects do not follow, the failure is caused by the impure article, which curses the inventor of the good. I deem it my duty, as heretofore, to keep you apprised of the continued effect on my hair, as I assure all who inquire of me of my unshaken opinion of its valuable results. I remain, dear sir, yours,
A. C. RAYMOND.

Aaron's Run, Ky., Nov. 30, 1858.
Prof. O. J. Wood: Dear Sir—I would certainly be doing you a great injustice not to make known to the world the wonderful as well as the unexpected result I have experienced from using ONE bottle of your Hair Restorative. After using every kind of Restorative extant, but without success, and finding my head nearly destitute of hair, I was finally induced to try a bottle of your Hair Restorative. Now, candor and justice compel me to announce to whoever may read this that I now possess a new and beautiful growth of hair, which I pronounce richer and handsomer than the original was. I will therefore take occasion to recommend this invaluable remedy to ALL who may feel the necessity of it.
Respectfully yours, REV. S. ALLEN BROCK.

P. S.—This testimonial of my approbation for your valuable medicine (as you are aware of) is unsolicited—but if you think it worthy a place among the rest, insert it if you wish; if not, destroy and say nothing.
Yours, &c., Rev. S. A. B.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds ½ a pint and retails for $1 per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retail for $2 per bottle; the large hold a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retail for $3 a bottle.

A Treatise on the Causes of Early Physical Decline of American People; the Cause of Nervous Debility, Consumption, and Marasmus.

☞ This work is of a high moral tone, written in chaste yet thrilling language, and appeals directly to the moral consciousness of ALL, PARENTS and GUARDIANS especially, detailing scientific and reliable aids and treatment for cure.

It will be sent by mail on receipt of two 3-cent stamps.

A Word of Solemn Conscientious Advice to those who will Reflect.

A class of maladies prevail to a fearful extent in community dooming at least 100,000 youth of both sexes annually to an early grave. Those diseases are very imperfectly understood. Their external manifestations or symptoms are Nervous Debility, Relaxation, and Exhaustion; Marasmus or wasting and consumption of the tissues of the whole body; shortness of breathing or hurried breathing on ascending a hill or a flight of stairs, great palpitation of the Heart; Asthma, Bronchitis, and sore Throat; shaking of the Hands and Limbs; aversion to society and to business or study; dimness of Eyesight; loss of Memory; dizziness of the Head; Neuralgic Pains in various parts of the body; Pains in the Back or Limbs; Lumbago, Dyspepsia, or Indigestion; irregularity of the Bowels; deranged sections of the Kidneys and other glands of the body, as Leucorrhœa or Fleur Albus, &c.; likewise Epilepsy, Hysteria, and Nervous Spasms.

Now, in ninety-nine cases out of every one hundred all the above-named disorders, and a host of others not named, as Consumption of the Lungs, and the most insidious and wily form of Consumption of the Spinal Nerves known as Tabes Dorsales, and Tabes mesenterica, have their seat and origin in diseases of Pelvic Viscera. Hence the want of success on the part of old school practice in treating symptoms only.

Dr. Andrew Stone, Physician to the Troy Lung and Hygienic Institution, is now engaged in treating this class of modern maladies with the most astonishing success. The treatment adopted by the Institution is new; it is based upon scientific principles, with new discovered remedies, without minerals or poisons. The facilities of cure are such that patients can be cured at their homes, in any part of the country, from accurate description of their case, by letter, and have the medicines sent them by mail or express. Printed interrogatories will be forwarded on application.

☞ Consumption, Catarrh, and diseases of the Throat cured as well at the homes of patients as at the Institution by sending the Cold Medicated Inhaling Balsamic Vapors, with inhaler, and ample directions for their use, and direct correspondence.

☞ The attending physician will be found at the Institution for consultation, from 9 A. M. to 9 P. M. of each day. Sundays in the forenoon.

DR. HALL'S
Louisville
MEDICAL INFIRMARY,
CONDUCTED ON THE PLAN OF THE HOSPITAL DES VENERIENS, PARIS.

WHERE those afflicted with any form of Private Disease can receive prompt treatment without risk or exposure, viz: Syphilis, Gonorrhea, Gleet, Strictures, Ulcers, Tumors, Cancers, Secondary, and Constitutional Syphilis, Diseases of the Kidneys, etc. By this system it is proved that the venereal complaint is as entirely under the control of medicine as is a common cold or simple fever and, while inefficient persons are daily sending away their patients in hopelessness, and giving them up only from their own incompetency, complete and permanent cures are constantly being effected at this Infirmary.

YOUNG MEN, TAKE PARTICULAR NOTICE.—Dr. H. devotes much of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret habit which ruins both body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for either business or society. The sad effect of these early habits, or the excesses of riper years, are to weaken and debilitate the constitution, destroy the physical and mental powers, diminish and enfeeble the natural feelings, and exhaust the vital energies of manhood; the pleasures of life are marred, the object of marriage frustrated, and existence itself rendered a term of unceasing misery and regret. Such persons, especially those contemplating marriage, should lose no time in making immediate application, as Dr. H., by his new treatment, is enabled to insure a speedy and permanent cure.

DR. HALL'S AMERICAN PERIODICAL PILLS.—No article of medicine intended for the exclusive use of females has ever yet been introduced that has given such universal satisfaction as the American Periodical Pills. They can be relied on in all cases of Menstrual Obstructions, Irregularities, &c., as a sure and safe remedy. Price, per mail, $1 and one postage stamp.

Patients living at a distance can be cured at home by sending a description of their disease and inclosing a stamp.

Medicine sent to any address.

TRUE OIL.

Rio Island, Bedford, Va., Nov. 1, 1854.
Messrs. Dove & Co.—Gentlemen: I used about one-fourth of a bottle of your Turf Oil upon the back of my horse, the worst back I almost ever saw, entirely raw, a place nearly as large as my hand, and this single application (I only applied it once) cured it up entirely and permanently. I really was surprised at the quickness of its curative properties, and I think it more prompt and efficacious than anything of the kind I ever saw, and I have sold thousands of bottles of other preparations for similar purposes.
Respectfully, P. BONDURANT.

Surry County, Va., January, 1858.
Gentlemen: My old man, Billy, about 70 years of age while hewing sills with a broadaxe, split the calf of the leg open down to the bone, about 3 or 4 inches long, cutting an artery. It bled profusely for two days, and continued to bleed until cold and stiff. I had to give him hot brandy. I could not sew it up, but just saturated a piece of linen with your Turf Oil and laid it on the cut. I did not expect him, on account of his age, ever to be able to work again. I continued to dress the wound two or three weeks with the Turf Oil. In six weeks the cut was entirely well, and he was at work again.
Very respectfully, W. CLAIBORNE JONES.

DR. LA CROIX'S
PRIVATE MEDICAL TREATISE ON THE PHYSIOLOGICAL VIEW OF MARRIAGE.
250 Pages and 130 Fine Plain and Colored Lithographs.

ON the infirmities of youth and maturity, disclosing the secret follies of both sexes of all ages, causing debility, nervousness, depression of spirits, palpitation of the heart, suicidal imaginations, involuntary blushings, defective memory, indigestion, and lassitude, &c., comprising 250 pages, and illustrated with upwards of one hundred and thirty engravings. It is a truthful adviser to the married and those contemplating marriage, who entertain secret doubts of their physical condition, and who are conscious of having hazarded the health, happiness, and privileges to which every human being is entitled. With Confessions of a Boarding School Miss, a College Student, and a Young Married Lady, full of romance and thrilling interest.

Young men who are troubled with weakness, generally caused by a bad habit in youth, the effects of which are dizziness, pains, forgetfulness, sometimes a ringing in the ears, weak eyes, weakness of the back and lower extremities, confusion of ideas, loss of memory, with melancholy, may be cured by the author's NEW PARIS AND LONDON TREATMENT.

We have for the greater part of the past year, devoted our time in VISITING THE EUROPEAN HOSPITALS, availing ourselves of the knowledge and researches of the most skilled Physicians and Surgeons in Europe and on the Continent—such men as CIVIALE, LENOIRE, RICORD, BRECHETEAU, ACTON, and CURLINGS, of the French and English hospitals. Our tour extended through France, Italy, Germany, Holland, England, Ireland, Scotland, and Wales, visiting in our route the principal hospitals in Paris, London, Rome, Venice, Vienna, Dresden, Berlin, &c., &c. We have been amply repaid by the additional knowledge we have acquired in the treatment of various diseases to which we have directed our attention. Those who place themselves under our care will now have the full benefit of the many NEW AND EFFICIENT REMEDIES which we are enabled to introduce into our practice, and the public may rest assured of the same zeal, assiduity, SECRECY, and attention being paid to their cases, which has so successfully distinguished us heretofore as a Physician in our PECULIAR department of professional practice.

Medicines with full directions sent to any part of the United States or Canadas, by patients communicating their symptoms by letter. Business correspondence strictly confidential.

CELEBRATED
STIMULATING ONGUENT
For the Whiskers and Hair.

The subscribers take pleasure in announcing to the citizens of the United States that they have obtained the Agency for and are now enabled to offer to the American public the above justly celebrated and world-renowned article is prepared by Dr. C. P. BELLINGHAM, an eminent physician of London, and is warranted to bring out a thick set of in from three to six weeks. This article is the only one of the kind used by the French, and in London and Paris it is in universal use.

THE STIMULATING ONGUENT

It is a beautiful, economical, soothing, yet stimulating compound, acting as if by magic upon the roots, causing a beautiful growth of luxuriant hair. If applied to the scalp, it will cure BALDNESS, and cause to spring up in place of the bald spots a fine growth of new hair. Applied according to directions, it will turn RED or towy hair DARK, and restore gray hair to its original color, leaving it soft, smooth, and flexible. The "ONGUENT" is an indispensable article in every gentleman's toilet, and after one week's use they would not for any consideration be without it.

The subscribers are the only Agents for the article in the United States, to whom all orders must be addressed.

Price One Dollar a box. For sale by all Druggists and Dealers; or a box of the "Onguent" (warranted to have the desired effect) will be sent to any who desire it, by mail (direct), securely packed, on receipt of price and postage, $1 18. Apply to or address

HEADACHE whether as a premonitory symptom of threatened disease, or as a concomitant of a disease intrenched within the system, is instantaneously relieved by RADWAY'S READY RELIEF,
and CURED IN SIX HOURS,
BY RADWAY'S REGULATING PILLS.

There is scarcely a disease, ailment, or malady that seizes upon the human system but that one of its chief and primary symptoms is HEADACHE. The slightest derangement of the Stomach, Liver, Heart, Skin, Bowels, Kidneys, or Bladder, or a disturbance of the circulation of the blood or interference with the perspiration—results in pain, to a greater or less degree of severity, in the HEAD.

HEADACHE

is not of itself a disease, but it is a certain sign that foreign and unhealthy humors exist within the system, and that disease is lurking within the body. Headache, therefore, should never be neglected; it is a warning of approaching woe, a signal to the sufferer to fortify his system to resist and repel the threatened disease. Headache is not only a premonitor of threatened disease, but it is likewise a concomitant of all the most violent, infectious, epidemic, and fatal diseases that afflict mankind. In the malarious, contagious, and infectious fevers—in YELLOW, TYPHUS, TYPHOID, SCARLET, SHIP FEVER, LUNG FEVER, PNEUMONIA, MEASLES, SMALL POX.

IN FEVER AGUE,

Chagres Fever, Marsh Fever in all Remittent and Intermittent Fevers. In Bilious, Nervous, and Rheumatic Fevers, in Influenza, Sore Throat, Sudden Colds, in Diptheria, in Inflammations, Congestions, and Convulsions.

HEADACHE, HEADACHE, HEADACHE,

which down the brain with pain, and transforms the maddened brain to hideous insanity. In all these distressing forms of Headache,
RADWAY'S READY RELIEF,
and
RADWAY'S REGULATING PILLS,
are quick and positive curatives.

In all cases of Sympathetic Headache, as disordered stomach, sudden cold, excessive indulgence, close application, &c., RADWAY'S READY RELIEF will restore the sufferer to peaceful tranquillity in a few minutes, and will, in six hours, purge from the system all offending humors, and restore a healthy equalization to the circulation.

Let those who are at present suffering with Headache make the experiment. In from five minutes to six hours you will be free from pain, and will enjoy a refreshing sleep. Don't wait, but try it at once.

and thousands of other distinguished gentlemen have used RADWAY'S READY RELIEF, RADWAY'S REGULATING PILLS, RADWAY'S RENOVATING RESOLVENT, and have cured themselves and others with these remedies, after all other medicines failed. Every one of the above named gentlemen will vouch for these remedies, as being the only medicines that restored them and their friends and those to whom they recommended them, to health.

RADWAY'S READY RELIEF.
THE MINUTE MEDICINE.

Instantaneous ease is given by Radway's Ready Relief in all cases of acute pain, internal or external. It stops in a moment the maddening agony of rheumatism, neuralgia, toothache, burns, scalds, cuts, and bruises, when applied outwardly. Torture, that if continued would cause death, is arrested by a single dose of it. In five minutes, it overrides disease, giving time for the action of the other remedies. All complaints caused by unhealthy air, such as small-pox, scarlet fever, measles, fever and ague, yellow fever, cholera, dysentery, pneumonia, &c., are prevented by its occasional use. When the nervous system is paralyzed or convulsed, it produces a rapid reaction, immediately relieving spasms, convulsions, hysterics, &c. For the debilitated it is the best possible stomachic, infinitely better than alcohol in any form. Have it on hand always, for it may be required at any moment, and no drug will supply its place.

WM. SYDNEY MYERS, ESQ., HAVANA, CUBA.

HAVANA, CUBA, Jan. 2, 1858.
Messrs. RADWAY & Co., Gentlemen: I have been a sufferer from Acute Chronic Rheumatism for the last twenty years of my life; my sufferings during that period, neither tongue nor pen can express. I have spent a little fortune on Doctors' bills, without deriving any substantial benefit. Recently I had one of my frequent periodical attacks. I was very ill for a week, and had not slept an hour at any one time. A Spanish friend to whom I related my sufferings, told me he had a remedy which would give me relief, and he kindly presented me with a bottle of "RADWAY'S READY RELIEF." Although skeptical of deriving any advantage from its use, I that night applied it freely on going to bed, and, to my great amazement, felt relieved and slept soundly. The next night, I again applied the Ready Relief, and awoke in the morning free from pain, having only used about half the bottle.

Heartily do I return you my humble acknowledgments for your invaluable medicine, which may well be called a "blessing to man." * * * Thanking you from my soul for your wonderful remedy, I have the honor to subscribe myself,
Yours, Respectfully,
W. SYDNEY MYERS.

UNHEALTHY CITIES, SICKLY CLIMATES.

Dr. Wambarie, of Curacoa, writes to the special agent of Dr. Radway as follows: This is one of the most unhealthy places in the world; medicines of known value that will cure diseases of the same character in other places have no effect upon the sick here. Radway's Ready Relief, Regulating Pills and Renovating Resolvent prove happy exceptions, for in every case where these miraculous medicines are administered, they cure the sick. I have cured the most terrible cases of yellow fever, fever and ague, typhoid fever, congestion of the liver, bilious fever, by the use of the Ready Relief and Radway's Pills.

With the Ready Relief and Regulating Pills, Dysentery is harmless, Cholera becomes a pastime, and the most violent Small Pox changes to a mild form of the Varioloid. The frightful Asthma is speedily reduced to easy, unchecked breathing. In bites of snakes, and stings of insects, a single application of the Ready Relief neutralizes the poison, and soothes the irritated flesh. I have cured several cases of palpitation of the heart, rush of blood to the head, and fits of various kinds, by a few doses of Radway's Regulating Pills.

MONDAY, APRIL 8, 1861.

☞ The speech of Senator Prall, of Bourbon county, on the state of the nation, which we publish this morning, deserves all the commendation it received when it was delivered in the Legislature. Mr. Prall was a very zealous Breckinridge Democrat, and has not yet publicly declared his intention to co-operate with the Union party against the machinations of his former leader; but when he can produce such cogent arguments to show the folly and wickedness of secession, and can expose the inconsistencies of his former associates in such a glaring manner, we can hardly suppose that he will hesitate to lend his influence to the election of Crittenden, Guthrie, and the other Union delegates to the Border Convention.

MUNICIPAL ELECTION.—We publish this morning the returns of the municipal election of Saturday. We should have preferred the success of the entire ticket nominated by the Court-house Union meeting, but we believe that all the gentlemen elected, with perhaps one exception, are Union men true and staunch and resolute, and with this we may well be satisfied. We understand that all the members elect of both branches of the Common Council are determined Union men. The Mayor elect is one of the strongest Union men in the city.

It would be useless to speculate upon the causes of one candidate's election or another's defeat on Saturday. It is enough to say that the mass of our voters thought they were doing the best they could for the interest of the city and of the Union. There was much of personal rivalry among the numerous aspirants, but we trust that no ill feeling remains—at any rate no feeling inconsistent with the most harmonious co-operation hereafter in the noble cause of the country. There must be but one Union party in our city and State, and that party must embrace all who love the Union and would guard against its dissolution. Henceforth let there be no jarring, no rival Union nominations. The approaching election of Delegates to the Border States Convention demands perfect unity of counsel and action on the part of all who deprecate secession and the untold horrors of civil war, and let their only struggle be to surpass each other in devotion to the Union cause.

SUSPICIOUS.—We understand, that, after Mr. Breckinridge addressed the secessionists at Frankfort in caucus last Tuesday evening, they all, even those who had been disheartened if not disgusted with the alleged tameness of his public speech a few hours before, appeared in the highest spirits, giving out knowingly but cautiously on all sides that the Union men were standing over a mine, which, if everything worked well, would be exploded in less than a week, and blow them high as the sky. This arch disclosure undoubtedly means something. What is it?

Does it mean, that, having completed their preparations for attacking the Forts of the United States, the revolutionists of the Gulf are now on the point of making the attack, and of deliberately inaugurating bloodshed, with the view of so working upon the sympathies of the Border States as to drag them into the vortex of revolution? Is this the secret authoritative information that Mr. Breckinridge imparted to his followers at Frankfort with such inspiriting effect? We hope not, and yet we are not without our fears in the case. We are by no means confident that this is not exactly the meaning of the thing. We cannot help suspecting strongly that it is. "The only thing," said a prominent secessionist in February last, writing from Richmond, Virginia, to the Charleston Mercury, "that can save us, and unite the South, is the capture of Fort Sumter before the end of this month. This will bring all Virginia to arms, and the Border States will follow her. * * * Therefore, as much as I deplore bloodshed, I must advise prompt action." No action of the sort advised by this Virginia patriot and Christian has yet been taken, but whether the neglect has been owing to moral or to military scruples we do not presume to say. We believe we hazard nothing in saying, however, that heretofore the revolutionists have not been in a military condition to initiate the policy suggested by their Virginia counsellor, and that now, thanks to the truce they accepted and to the industry with which they have made the most of it, they probably conceive that they are in such a condition. The military scruples of the revolutionists have at length been removed. What effect this change in their condition, wrought under the forbearance of the government they seek to overthrow, will have upon their action, remains to be seen. We confess we do not anticipate the best. Nay, we confess the incident at Frankfort to which we have referred above seems to us to point directly to the worst. Assuredly the incident is suspicious in the extreme. This is the least that can be fairly said of it.

We warn the friends of the Union in the Border States to be on their guard. Let them look out for the explosion of mines and the use of all other underhand and reckless agencies of destruction. The secession leaders are playing a desperate game, and there is too much reason to fear that no respect for law or humanity, for the public safety or the public peace, for the interests or the honor of the people, will be allowed to stand for a moment in the way of what they deem necessary to success, if they can cast it down. They may succeed in casting down such respect in their own breasts, but they will find it immovable and insurmountable in the breasts of the people. Kentuckians are intelligent and sagacious as well as brave. They are not mere fighting animals, but enlightened and gallant men. They are ready to dare all things in defence of their rights and of their honor, but they are far too sensible to believe that either requires them to rush into a deadfall which designing men have vauntingly set and baited for both. The gallantry of Kentuckians will ever defend their rights and their honor but it will never betray either the one or the other. Kentucky valor is no such blind and irrational thing as that. And the secessionists would do well to take seasonable notice of the fact. Kentucky is opposed to the coercion of the seceding States by the Federal Government; but she is not in favor of the coercion of the Federal Government by the seceding States. On the contrary, she is decidedly opposed to that also. And her tenderness for the revolutionists of the Gulf is not of so passionate and overpowering a description as to be likely in any event to stifle her sense of justice and bewilder her reason.

ALARMING STRENGTH OF SECESSIONISM IN LOUISVILLE.—The only outright secession candidate for the Mayoralty in this city on Saturday was Mr. Devan. Mr. D. published his proclamation day after day in the Courier, declaring that he was an Alabamian by birth, that he was a State Rights man, and that he would have Kentucky go out with the Cotton States. We did not read the document, but such, we are told, was its import. The editor of the Courier called to it the especial attention of the voters. Moreover Mr. D. was known to be very popular personally, and deservedly so. Under these circumstances he was of course expected to receive an amount of support that would serve both at home and abroad as a most imposing display of disunion strength. He was relied on to bear the disunion banner far up in the sky.

Mr. Devan received just forty-two votes in our whole city!!!

☞ We should think that any one of our secessionists, after reading the remarks of Henry Clay, published by us on Friday, would so shrivel up and down in his own estimation, that, if placed side by side with Tom Thumb, he would fancy himself in the presence of a giant.

☞ Concerning the re-establishment or preservation of the Union there are two lines of policy suggested. One is to demand guarantees that shall be acceptable to the seceding States and to regard even such guarantees though obtained as nullities and dissolve the Union if the seceding States do not accept them; the other is to ask for guarantees that are just in themselves and when granted accept them in good faith and trust to the "sober second thought" and the returning loyalty of the seceding States to accept them also.

The former policy doesn't in truth look to the re-establishment or preservation of the Union at all. Its real purpose and its inevitable tendency is to render the destruction of the Union speedily complete. We need not say that it is the policy of the secessionists amongst us. It is the policy announced by the late secession Convention in Frankfort. It is the policy declared by John C. Breckinridge at Washington last month and hinted by him at Frankfort the other day. It is the policy disclosed on Friday by the secessionists in the Virginia Convention, and nipped in the bud by the Unionists, as shown in the despatches on the next page. It is the policy on which the Border secessionists as a body are rapidly settling down. It is a purely disunion policy.

The latter policy looks in all sincerity to the re-establishment of the Union on a fair and honorable basis. It is the policy of the Unionists.

In the canvass for the Border Conference now opening, the former policy is represented by W. O. Butler, James B. Clay, Henry C. Burnett, J. W. Crockett, George W. Ewing, A. G. Talbott, J. L. Helm, John M. Elliott, Humphrey Marshall, Thomas P. Porter, Emery Whitaker, and William E. Arthur. The latter policy is in the same canvass represented by John J. Crittenden, James Guthrie, Rufus K. Williams, Archie Dixon, Francis M. Bristow, Joshua F. Bell, Charles A. Wickliffe, George W. Dunlap, Chas. S. Morehead, James F. Robinson, John B. Huston, and Robert Richardson.

In less than a month from to-day the freemen of Kentucky will be called upon to choose between these two policies thus represented. What the decision will be we cannot pretend to doubt. The Union policy and the Union candidates will be chosen by a majority unprecedented in the annals of the Commonwealth.

Most unquestionably no sincere and intelligent friend of the Union in Kentucky will vote to take the cause of the Union out of the hands of such men as Crittenden and Guthrie and Morehead and Dixon and Bell and Wickliffe to put it into the hands of such men as W. O. Butler and James B. Clay and Henry C. Burnett and A. G. Talbott and Humphrey Marshall. The thing is supremely absurd! And yet the whole hope of the secessionists is built on this absurdity. May their hopes never rest on a firmer or more rational foundation.

☞ The result of the Rhode Island election is of cheering significance as a triumph of the Union party in that State, and an endorsement of the course pursued by the Rhode Island delegates to the Peace Conference. Two of the members of the delegation were elected, Samuel G. Arnold as Lieutenant Governor, and George H. Brown for Congress from the Western District. In addition to this happy indication, we have the gratifying intelligence that Connecticut has defeated two of the Republican nominees for Congress in that State. In the last Congress all six of the Representatives from Rhode Island and Connecticut were Republicans; in the next, there will be but two, being a clear gain of eight votes for the Union cause. The recent elections in the cities of Brooklyn, Schenectady, Cleveland, Sandusky, Toledo, Cincinnati, and St. Louis, are added causes for congratulation, as they evince a unity of sentiment and determination among men of all former political parties to put down the Republicans. From all these tokens we are confirmed in the opinion that Messrs. Crittenden, Morehead, Wickliffe, and Guthrie are correct in asserting that the people of the North would take the earliest occasion to reverse the action of the political leaders, and give to the South the most evident demonstrations and direct assurances that the old spirit of fraternity burns as brightly and purely as it ever has done in the most sympathetic alliances between the two sections, when Maine and Louisiana, Florida and Michigan, stood shoulder to shoulder in political conflicts. The refusal of Northern Congressmen to enter upon the work of pacification in a prompt and liberal manner is not to be charged upon the people of the North. The venerable Crittenden has told us that the people will not be led by the politicians; they have risen on these occasions, and he expressed it too as the belief of his heart that there is at this moment a majority of Northern men that would vote cheerfully for any of the resolutions of compromise that were proposed by men of the South in the last Congress. We cannot fail to regard all the results to which we have referred as indicative of the state of feeling at the North, which is for peace and a restoration of fraternal feelings. From every Northern State without an exception the people sent letters to Mr. Crittenden, saying: "We want to preserve the Union; we differ from our representatives in Congress in this matter. They are elected as partisans, on party platforms, and are subject to the control of their party. They do not feel as we do. They feel and act like partisans, and want to maintain every syllable and every letter of their platform. We wish to preserve our sacred Union. We love our brethren. Put your resolutions before us. They will pass by hundreds and thousands of majorities." And who can doubt that these promises would be fulfilled when we see that wherever the people have moved it has been to repair the error of the late Presidential election, to clip the wings of the Republican party, and to make its success in November last a barren victory. Let us remain quiet until the next election, and we have no fears but that our brethren of the North will carry out the series of victories they have so nobly and gallantly commenced.

ACCOMMODATING.—Mr. Breckinridge concludes the argument of his Frankfort speech thus:

> Now, Mr. Speaker, it appears to me, sir, that if the States of Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee, and the other States that I have indicated, were to take the propositions of Gov. Crittenden, even make them stronger if you choose, because if you can ever get it off the fanatical basis, and put it on the political basis, it will be right I am sure—take them—offer them to the North and to the South—hold them out to both sections—offer the olive branch to the North and to the South—try to reunite all these States upon this basis, say to them, gentlemen, we were members of a Confederacy of thirty-four States, that has broken in parts—we hold ourselves free to say how far it shall be broken; if we find it impossible to reunite you upon terms that we think you can reunite with honor upon, then it is, sir, that I hold that the Commonwealth of Kentucky would be perfectly free to pursue whatever course her people may think consonant with her interest and her honor.
> IT IS NOT APPROPRIATE FOR ME TO GO FARTHER AND SAY WHAT, IN SUCH A MELANCHOLY CONTINGENCY AS THAT, I WOULD ADVOCATE. IT IS NOT WITHIN THE SCOPE OF THESE REMARKS.

Now, certainly Mr. Breckinridge is a most accommodating statesman. Having, in the preceding part of his speech, assumed virtually that the North will never accept the measure he lays down as an ultimatum and that if the North should the South never will, thereby suggesting as an inevitable certainty the contingency to which he refers, he says that "it is not appropriate" for him "to go farther and say, what, in such a melancholy contingency as that," he "would advocate," that "it is not within the scope" of his "remarks," but that he nevertheless holds "that the Commonwealth of Kentucky would be perfectly free to pursue whatever course her people may think consonant with her interest and her honor." Really, the liberality of this secession chief is very striking. It reminds us vividly of that of the showman in the menagerie, when interrupted in the voluble flow of his description by a curious little spectator. "Which is the elephant and which is the monkey?" lisped an infant greenhorn. "Just which you please, my little man," promptly responded the showman, "it is perfectly immaterial to me: you've paid your money, and you can take your choice of the animals!"

☞ Our readers may remember that we used to have a most charming poetical correspondent who often wrote for the Journal under the signature of "Laura Lorrimer." Laura lives in Alabama, and, for some time past, she has been writing exceedingly spirited disunion songs and odes, which the secessionists are singing and shouting throughout the entire South. Really, dear Laura, this distresses us more than we are willing to confess to the world. We suppose you will now apply to the Alabama Legislature to change the name of your sweet little girl from Viola Prentice to Viola Davis or Viola Yancey or Viola Pickens or Viola Beauregard or some such name.

Now, Laura, if you can write such songs for disunion, how like a demi-goddess you would pour forth your burning thoughts if the glory of the Union were your theme!

TARIFF RECEIPTS AT VICKSBURG.—The Vicksburg Whig of the 20th states that from fifteen hundred to two thousand dollars were collected there the previous day, under the tariff laws of the new Confederacy. Of course this was all upon products of the United States, which the seceding States previously received free of duty.

SPEECH OF JOHN A. PRALL,

Senator from Bourbon and Bath, Delivered in the Senate of Kentucky April 1, 1861.

MR. SPEAKER: We are in the midst of great events. In their rapid and sweeping current we have been borne along till we find ourselves called upon to grapple with the mightiest issues of the age. Grave, indeed, is the responsibility which rests upon those who are acting their parts in this great drama. It is not the mere transitory policy of the moment that is involved, but the fate of an empire in all time to come, and the destinies of millions of freemen. Seldom, indeed, have questions of deeper import or more pervading interest been debated among men. In the humble part I have been called to act in my position here, I have attempted to meet these great issues calmly and without passion, and with a single purpose to be true to my country and faithful to the constituency who have honored me with their confidence. I have no interests that are not mingled with theirs. I have no hopes for myself—no aspirations that can be gratified when my country is destroyed. On the one hand I should feel myself unworthy of the trust that has been reposed in me were I to assent to any policy which would degrade the honor or compromise the just and substantial rights of my native State; and on the other hand, I would merit the execrations of my countrymen were I to contribute to precipitate the final and complete dismemberment of the Confederacy, if events should show that it might yet have been saved, and restored, upon principles of justice and equality to all its members. I have attempted to guard against both these extremes. The resolution which I offered on the first day of our extra session looking to the call of a Convention of the slave-holding States which yet remain in the Union, seemed to me to provide for the only immediately action upon the subject that it was proper for Kentucky to take; and I am gratified that the policy thus suggested has been adopted by the Senate.

At the beginning of the session it was strongly urged that we should at once call a Sovereignty Convention of the State, "to be assembled at an early day, to whom should be referred, for full and final determination, the future Federal and inter-State relations of Kentucky." While differing with those who were opposed to a Convention of the State at all times and under all circumstances, and believing that if any great public necessity should determine the people to act in the direction which seemed to be contemplated by the advocates of that movement, it would be wiser and safer that their action should be organized by such provisions as would insure regularity and deliberation, I was, nevertheless, utterly opposed to the proposition suggested. I dissented from it, first, because I was unwilling to submit so momentous an issue to the final arbitrament of any less numerous tribunal than the whole mass of the people, and would, therefore, insist, as an indispensable condition, that the action of any body called to deliberate upon this subject should not be binding until it had been ratified by the popular vote; and, secondly, because I did not believe that such a movement was demanded, either by the will of the people or the exigencies of the times. There was nothing which Kentucky might desire to do, touching our Federal relations, which could not be quite as well accomplished through the regular and constitutional agencies already provided—except to secede from the Union. I did not think, therefore, that the time had arrived for the call of a Convention of the State, until there was some good reason to believe that Kentucky was ready to take this final and decisive step. And I think there can be but little doubt that if the proposition had been submitted to the people, it would have been voted down and repudiated most decisively here, as it was in Tennessee and North Carolina, and as it has been more recently by its original friends and advocates.

The future which stretches before us is still perilous and uncertain. Practically, Kentucky has but little power to control the future, except so far as she may exert her just share of influence upon the action of the States by which she is surrounded. There never has been a moment in her history—either when the clamor was raised here for the call of a convention or now—when she could have withdrawn from the Union without not only severing her connection with the States of the North, but at the same time turning her back upon the slaveholding States that adjoin her. Whoever advocates her secession now must propose that she shall assume a position of isolation and independence, and stand alone in the heart of the Confederacy. The proposition involves a severance of the links which bind her to her mother, the venerable old Commonwealth of Virginia, which stretches along her whole eastern border; her sister Tennessee on the South, and her daughter Missouri on the West, as well as the other slaveholding States which yet remain in the Union, and with which her interests and her sympathies are inseparably interwoven. There is no escape from this logical and inevitable necessity resulting from our geographical position. A connection with the Southern Confederacy is physically impossible, because we do not adjoin it. Tennessee, for its whole width, lies between; and Tennessee, by a most decisive and emphatic vote of her people, has determined her position, at least for the present. Her voice is for the Union. If, on the other hand, the developments of the future should prove disastrous to the patriotic hopes still cherished by those who love the Union, and the march of the revolution should reach our borders, and the States which surround us should withdraw from the Union, I have no hesitation in saying that Kentucky would go with them, and that her destiny is inseparable from theirs.

In order, then, that Kentucky may be in position to exert her share of influence in shaping the events of the future, and that she may not be passively borne along by a current which she has no agency in directing and no power to control, and in order that States thus united in interest may counsel together upon the condition of the country, and put forth their united voice, it is eminently fit that we should respond to the movement which has been proposed by Virginia, and meet our sister slaveholding States in council, so that they may act in concert upon the momentous questions of the day. They have a great and noble mission to perform. Associated by the ties of government with the States of the North, and having common institutions and sympathies with the States of the South which have withdrawn from the Union, they are fortunately situated to be the medium of communication between the extremes. They form the last link that binds the Union; when that shall be broken the dismemberment of the Confederacy will be complete, and, I fear, eternal. A great nation lives but once. I have but little faith in the theory of dissolution for the purpose of reconstruction. It has seemed to me a fearful and fatal delusion. I cannot appreciate the reasoning of those who would teach me first to destroy in order to repair; to demolish the structure utterly, so that one stone shall not be left upon another, before we begin the work of restoration. I prefer, if possible, to reunite what is broken, but let the building stand upon the foundations on which our fathers erected it, and upon which it has stood so long, and amid so many storms and perils, the noblest edifice of civil and religious liberty upon the face of the earth. If it shall fall, it will go down with a crash that will shake the continent, and I shall have but little hope that, amid the fierce convulsions that follow, we will be able to gather up from the wild chaos of a dismembered empire, and reunite its broken and disjointed fragments.

The first object then to which these States, when their counsels are thus united, should direct their energies, would be to bring about, if practicable, through whatever agencies might seem to them most appropriate, some fair adjustment of existing difficulties, which should remove the grievances of which the South complains, and restore the harmony of our distracted country. The settlement should be complete and exhaustive of the subject, and should leave open no field for sectional agitation in the future. Without entering minutely into its details, such an adjustment, in my judgment, should embrace, first, full and permanent guarantees against Congressional interference with slavery in the States, in the District of Columbia, and in the forts, dockyards, arsenals, and other public places belonging to the Government, within the limits of slaveholding States; and these guarantees should be made fundamental and unchangeable; and secondly, we should firmly insist upon a fair partition of the present Territories, with protection to Southern institutions south of the line of division which might be agreed upon, in order that this vast and common domain stretching to the westward, with its teeming forests and prairies, might not be held in exclusive monopoly for the sons of the North. While I might prefer that an adjustment of the Territorial question should go still farther, and embrace in its terms all future acquisitions, I do not see in it importance enough to warrant us in urging it as an indispensable prerequisite to a settlement. The question is too remote to be made the subject of serious controversy.

We already stretch across the continent, covering all the temperate latitudes which are suited alike to slave or free labor, and any territory which we may hereafter acquire must either be in far northern regions, where slavery cannot go, or else in the extreme south, where voluntary labor cannot flourish, and would not struggle for a foothold. And lastly, any additions which we might make to our country would most probably contain population enough to be admitted at once as States, and thus have no territorial existence at all. I confess that when our country was united, I have looked forward with longing interest to the time when Cuba, the Queen of the Antilles, and the fairest and most beautiful of all the isles that gem the ocean, should be added to our country; but if this hope should be realized, she would come in at once as a slaveholding State. If the adjustment, then, of all the subjects of controversy should be narrowed down to this single point, it seems to me it would be madness to destroy our Government and ruin our country forever upon a contest over the division of territory which we do not possess and may never acquire.

If the Southern States had remained with us in the Union, we might have resisted successfully, under the forms and through the agencies of the Government, every effort to inaugurate a policy adverse to our interests and our rights. Let me read from a document, full of wise and masterly statesmanship, the letter of our Governor to the editor of the Yeoman, and communicated with his late message, in which he announces, after the election of Mr. Lincoln, what would be the policy of Kentucky, and upon what principles should be fought the battle of the South:

"She will appeal to the ballot-box, to the reason, to the justice, and to the patriotism of Congress, of the United States, and of the people everywhere; and when everything fails, doubly fortified, in her impregnable position, she will calmly and resolutely look the danger in the face, and no matter what the odds may be against her, she will then appeal to the God of battles, and with the Constitution in one hand and the sword in the other, and under the flag of the Union, her noble and gallant sons will prove themselves worthy of the glorious heroes from whom they sprung, by striking for their homes and their firesides—for their altars and their rights—for their liberties and the freedom of their children—for the Union under the compact of the Constitution—and he who would not do it is a coward and a slave."

And again:

"Let us reason with the Republicans still further; let us remonstrate more earnestly, firmly, and unitedly: let us at all events wait for the overt act, and then Kentucky can and will join her sister slave States. This, it seems to me, is the course of moderation and prudence and wisdom; certainly so, because neither Mr. Lincoln nor his party can pass any law, if the Opposition remain true, that will violate our rights. He can't even get an appropriation bill through Congress to carry on the Government. He can't appoint his Cabinet officers who may be offensive to the Democratic party and to the slave States. He can do nothing, with the present House of Representatives and Senate, backed by the Supreme Court, to violate our rights."

And still again:

"To South Carolina, and such other States who may wish to secede from the Union, I would say, the geography of this country will not admit of a division—the mouth and sources of the Mississippi river cannot be separated without the horrors of civil war—we cannot sustain you in this movement merely on account of the election of Lincoln. Do not precipitate us by premature action into a revolution or civil war, the consequences of which will be the most frightful to all of us. It may yet be avoided. There is still hope, faint though it be. Kentucky is a Border State, and has suffered more than all of you. She claims that, standing upon the same sound platform, you will sympathize with her, and stand by her, and not desert her in her exposed perilous border position. She has a right to claim that her voice, and the voice of reason and moderation and patriotism, shall be heard and heeded by you."

But this patriotic appeal was not heeded, and seven of the fifteen slave States have left us. We should, therefore, now demand the settlement and the guarantees to which I have referred; first, because without them we cannot hope to bring back the States that have seceded; and secondly, because if those States are not brought back the immense disproportion of the sections—the relative numerical inferiority of the remaining slaveholding States—would constitute an irresistible reason why we should insist upon these measures of security and protection against the swelling power of the North. These demands we should make in language temperate, but firm and dignified.

I have unshaken confidence, founded in the conservatism which has been manifested by the Border States, that we will ask nothing that is not just and equal; and I have strong hopes that when once the masses in the Northern States can be reached and appealed to, they will promptly accede to our just demands. And thus it may be that out of the tumults and discords that have imperilled our national existence, Providence, through the instrumentality of these Border States, may evolve this result—that our Union may be made stronger than ever, and that our country, again united, may bound forward in its glorious career of prosperity and greatness, and embrace in full fruition the palmy destiny for which Heaven seems to have designed it.

The Senator from McCracken, (Mr. Johnson,) who has addressed the Senate at so much length and with so much ability, in support of his views, and of the positions of those with whom he acts, seems to have despaired of any action of the North responsive to our demands. He sees no disposition in the North to do us justice. The Senator must have changed since he and his friends, but a few days ago, voted for the preamble to the resolution, which was adopted with so much unanimity in this body, ratifying the amendment to the Constitution, recently proposed by Congress, and which places beyond the reach of future interference, by a change of the Constitution or otherwise, the institution of slavery within the States—an amendment which in my judgment embodies a large proportion of the substance of all we have claimed of the North, as essential to our rights. Let me read the preamble, which stands upon the record sustained by the indorsement of the Senator and his friends:

"AND WHEREAS, Said proposed amendment, although it fails to secure to the slave States all the rights to which they are justly entitled, and therefore cannot be received or treated by them as an adjustment of existing difficulties, does remove one cause of apprehended danger, and evinces a disposition on the part of the people of the North to make some advances towards a reconciliation with their Southern brethren, and may, and it is hoped will, lead, in a spirit of concession and compromise, to its final consummation."

But the Senator prays that the North may "do us justice." Is he ready to say that he will accept that justice if it should be tendered by the North? If this Convention of border States, the call of which was recommended by the Convention with which he acted, should present its basis of settlement to the North, and it should be accepted, is he ready to say that we should then adhere to the Union, and acquiesce in the adjustment which we, ourselves, shall propose? If this is his position, there is no issue between him and me upon this point. But he plants himself upon the platform of the Convention which assembled here on the 20th of last month, which declares, "that in the event our cherished hopes for the restoration of the entire Union are blasted, that our affinities, duties, and interests, unite us with our Southern brethren upon principles of justice, equality and honor." If every concession, then, which, in our judgment, our interest, our safety, and our honor require, should be made by the North—if the full measure of justice which we claim, and all that our Southern brethren ought to claim, shall be accorded to us, there is to be still another condition, and that is, the restoration of the entire Union. If South Carolina, which has already solemnly declared that her separation from the Union is permanent and irrevocable, or any other one of the seceding States, should refuse to return, according to the fair construction of this platform it will be the duty of Kentucky and the border States, in view of this failure to restore the entire Union, to unite herself with the South, whatever terms of adjustment the Northern States might offer or accept. If this is to be our position, we should make no demand whatever. No man more anxiously desires than I do the re-establishment of our Confederacy as it was; but I am free to say, that if all we ask of the North shall be yielded us, it will be our duty to stand by the settlement we shall offer, and firmly adhering to the Government, to turn to our sisters of the South, and invite them, in a fraternal spirit, to come back and stand with us where we would then remain in the old Union, and under the old and venerated flag of our common country.

There is another subject to which the interposition of the Border States should be promptly directed, and which is of infinite importance to the success of every measure of adjustment—and that is the establishment and maintenance of pacific relations between the General Government and the States that have seceded. Standing between the sections, they should firmly command the peace. An attempt to coerce the seceding States into submission, or a serious conflict growing out of any effort of the Government to maintain the Federal authority within their limits, would be fatal to every measure of reconciliation, and would involve the country in all the horrors of a fierce and bloody civil war.

I shall not discuss the abstract question of the constitutional right of secession. My own judgment is that all governments are, in theory, at least, formed for perpetuity, and that none contain within themselves a feature providing for their own destruction. But there is a right higher than constitutions—the inherent and inalienable right of revolution, with which no community of men ever parted till they had ceased to be freemen. Upon this great right rests our own political existence. There is no tribunal that has the power to determine the time or the manner of its exercise, except the aggrieved community itself; and the government whose authority is rejected must decide, as a question of policy, whether it will acquiesce in the fact of revolution, or appeal to the arbitrament of the sword.

I would not be understood to announce the absurdity that ours is a government without any compulsory process, and resting for its authority upon the assent and acquiescence of each of its citizens. Within the scope of its powers it has all the vigor and efficiency necessary to its ordinary administration. But it requires no astuteness of statesmanship to distinguish between the unlawful acts of individuals, or even extensive but irregular combinations of men, which it is the province of the Government to curb and repress, and the movements of great Commonwealths, acting through their organized authorities, and proclaiming their independence to the world. Kentucky, loyal and devoted as she has ever been to the Union, could not be enlisted in a war for the subjugation of the Southern States. The attempt itself would be madness. The conquest of seven States, covering a vast area of the fairest region on the continent, with immense resources, and a brave and chivalric people fighting on their own soil against an invading foe, is physically impossible. The green savannahs of the South may be made desolate; rivers of blood may flow, and the crimson tide may roll on till every plain is red, but still the Southern sword will leap from its scabbard, and Southern hearts will bleed for their native land. Is it not better now to acquiesce in the fact of revolution, which is too apparent to be ignored, rather than at the end of a long and sanguinary conflict, in which the whole South would be at length involved, and which would destroy forever all hope of reconciling the embittered and infuriated belligerents.

But there is another reason why the policy of coercion should not be pursued, which grows out of the peculiar nature and structure of our institutions. If coercion were successful, what would be accomplished? Is it the policy of our government to extend its authority over a reluctant people? Can men be compelled by the sword to submit to a government which is not founded in the consent of the governed? Can they be forced to choose Presidents and Congressmen at the point of the bayonet? If they should be brought back into the Union by force, they would come, not as free and sovereign States, but as chained and conquered provinces. Does any gentleman desire to see such an element as this incorporated in a government whose proud distinction is, that as it has advanced to greatness and power, it has only extended itself over freemen and equals, whose submission to its authority has been but their voluntary homage to its noble institutions? If such should be our future policy, the days of the Republic are numbered; the Rubicon is passed, and the imperial purple only awaits the advent of some victorious leader.

But the indications from Washington give us strong reasons to hope that the policy of the Administration will be peaceful, and that the influence of the Border States in this direction has already been felt. If these indications should be confirmed, we may look forward hopefully to the restoration of the Union, and its perpetuation upon the enduring foundations of justice and equality. It may not be the work of a day, and it may not be achieved without difficulties and embarrassments. But the prize is worthy of our most earnest and heroic efforts. The Union may yet be saved by far less of sacrifice and effort than it cost our fathers to establish it.

Holding the views I do, as a States Rights Democrat, of the principles and structure of our Government, I see no just reason for dissolution growing out of our diverse systems of labor and habits of life, and industrial pursuits, nor because we are not in every respect a homogeneous people. Restrained within the limits of the Constitution, these diversities and apparent antagonisms are rather the elements of strength and of power, and the sources of prosperity. If the Union were closer and more compact, and the individuality of the States less clearly defined, I should feel that there was greater danger from the numerical superiority of the North, and more reason for our separation. If it were a consolidated democracy, I should dread the power of the North. But we are an aggregation of political communities, each sovereign within the scope of the powers reserved to itself, united for certain general and limited purposes, under a common nationality. And, although the Federal Government acts directly upon the people in the exercise of its delegated powers, no feature in our system is more distinctly marked than the recognition which pervades our whole framework of Government of the individual States as separate political organizations, holding in their hands the great residuum of sovereignty, and charged with all those interests which pertain to the happiness of the citizen and security of person and property. The withdrawal for a day of the authority of the State governments would plunge the country in absolute anarchy, although the General Government might remain in its full vigor and in the exertion of all its powers. The true theory of the government is, that the States are to be left free from all interference from without, to control whatever is local and internal, and to work out their own destiny in their own way. All we need is that these just and constitutional limitations of Federal authority shall be so distinctly declared that there may be no room for future controversy, and that they shall be made forever unchangeable; and a confederation of States, with their internal and municipal rights thus guarded, might be illimitably expanded and endure forever. The very reasoning which, from an exaggeration of the doctrine of State sovereignty, deduces the right of secession, at the same time disproves the necessity of its exercise.

I cannot penetrate the veil of the future, nor unfold what lies hid beyond. Kentucky must await the progress of events, contributing what she can of wisdom and moderation towards the solution of our unhappy difficulties. If she shall withdraw from the Union, she should accept secession only as an alternative which she cannot avoid, and be true to herself. This fundamental idea should guide her action, that to her there is nothing desirable in the future of dissolution. Every consideration of interest unites with every impulse of patriotism to urge her to struggle for the maintenance of the Union. Situate upon the line which divides the sections, she would stand exposed for the whole length of her border to all the difficulties and dangers incident to the immediate proximity of a foreign, perhaps a hostile nation. It might be well enough if, like Lot and Abram, when they could no longer tabernacle together, we could part in peace, and go, the one to the right hand and the other to the left. It might be well enough if a great desert could intervene, or an ocean of fire could roll between us. But with us there can be no separation. Here we stand where God has placed us, face to face; and whether friends or foes, here we must stand forever. The Union may be dissolved, and the links which have bound us under a common government may be broken, but still the great rivers which flow through the North and the South will roll on forever, and the great physical bonds by which God and nature have united us, will remain as indissoluble as eternity. In my visions of the rising greatness and glory of our nation, I have thought, with the pride of an American, how aptly nature had framed and fashioned together its members as parts of a compact and massive whole—how complete was the physical unity of our country. I have stood in the great northwest, where the sources of the Father of Waters almost intermingle with the fountains of the great lakes of the North, and as their divergent waters flowed onward to the sea, I have thought with what majestic links Heaven had bound together the noblest empire in the world. We should pause and ponder long before we put asunder what God has thus joined together.

With calmness, and without passion, we should await the future. In every event I am sure that Kentucky will be true to herself and to her great history. If the Union shall perish, she will feel that its fall is the destruction of her most cherished hopes, and I will grieve to see the flag which, upon the land and upon the sea, and amid so many historic glories in the past, has symbolized our nationality, go down forever. Whatever position she may assume, her destiny shall be mine; I am her loyal son, and I will follow her fortune; I will share her [illegible] and [illegible] in her prosperity.

FOR EXCHANGE.
A Chance for Texas Emigrants.
The subscriber having "Union proclivities," is desirous of exchanging his family residence in Austin, Texas, in the "Confederate States," for a home in any of the Southern States remaining true to the Union. Any secessionist, disgusted with the political turn of affairs in the States of Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee, Missouri, North Carolina, or Maryland, may be relieved of one of the difficulties of getting away from the disgusting submissionists around him—out of "that" and into "this"—by addressing the subscriber at Austin, Texas, with a description of the property to be exchanged.
The property offered by the subscriber consists of forty-two acres in the suburbs of Austin, about half a mile out of the city. The land valued at $100 per acre, prior to the "excitement," and improvements erected last year at an expense of rising $3,000, consisting of one stone house, two rooms and pantry; one wood house, two rooms and closets, &c.; one stone kitchen, stone cistern, servants' out-building, stable, hen-house, &c., &c. Desirable garden, containing about three acres under paling fence—eight acres enclosed—about six hundred dollars' worth of furniture at cost. There are some liens which may be arranged or removed. Title clear and good.
No Union man need apply, unless it be Parson Brownlow, with whom for "racket" would be made.
Address "CLERK OF U. S. COURT, Austin, Texas," with full particulars.
For further information apply to Geo. D. Prentice, of the Louisville Journal. a5 deodlm&w4

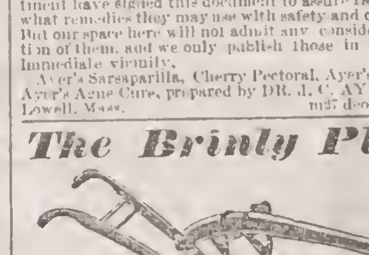
The Brinly Plow.



NO MAN CAN BE A SUCCESSFUL FARMER without using a good Plow. Every farmer wishes to be successful; hence he must use not only a good but if possible the best Plow. A Plow, to deserve the name "good," must be of light draft, that the team may pull it easily; must run steadily; do its work thoroughly; clean itself in every soil; must be simple in construction and have no useless weight. The Plow that excels all others in these particulars is not only a "good" but the best Plow, and, of course, should be used on every farm.
THIS BEST ARTICLE,
Brinly's Patent Steel Plow,
has proved itself in one hundred and sixty trials with the most popular Plows in the country and on every farm on which it has been used. Let every farmer try it. Send for a circular.

DECRAFF, O., 3 Mo., 9, '61.
Mr. L. Q. C. WISHART:
SIR: My wife has been afflicted with the consumption, as reported by my physician. She spit blood and matter frequently. She has been afflicted one year. I have tried almost every thing that was said to cure, but to no effect. I found a circular of the Pine Tree Tar Cordial, and concluded to try it. I purchased one bottle, and after taking it she was much better. She continued taking it, and after taking the fourth bottle had gained eight pounds of flesh. She now has a good color, and still continues to improve. I am satisfied it will cure her.
Yours truly, S. FRANTZ.

THEATRE.—An agreeable and unexpected treat has been tendered to us by the management in the engagement of our old favorite Mr. Scallan, whose performances here three seasons since were so rich in mirth and so full of the promise of that excellence which he has since achieved. He will appear to-night as Mr. Dove, in Buckstone's admirable comedy of "Married Life," and as Toby Twinkle in "All that Glitters is not Gold." We shall expect the presence of a large audience to give a hearty greeting to their old favorite and to enjoy the pleasant acting which he will be sure to favor us with.

BURGLARY AND ARREST.—A party of whites and free negroes broke into J. D. Bondurant's store, on Thursday night last, and stole a quantity of candles, potatoes, and other domestic supplies. In the search for some disorderly persons, on Friday night, officers Seay and Martz found the stolen articles in a house in the alley between Third and Fourth and Market and Jefferson streets, and arrested the inmates, John Reardon, James Myers, and Laura Reed. They will have an examination to-day.

CUTTING AFFRAY.—An affray occurred on Saturday evening at the corner of the alley near Gray and Hancock streets, in which Chas. Selvage, a youth, was cut in the left side by a young man named Jas. Bowles. The wound was supposed to be fatal, but the patient was resting well last evening, and it was thought he would recover.

LOUISVILLE, CLARKSVILLE, AND MEMPHIS RAILROAD.—By the time table which is to govern the running arrangements of this road, which will go into effect on Monday next, the 15th inst., trains will leave this city at noon and midnight each day. The time between Louisville and Memphis will be eighteen hours.

GRAND MILITARY AND CIVIC BALL.—Unusual preparations have been made to render the ball of the Louisville Battery, at Masonic Temple, on Wednesday evening, a successful entertainment. A large number of tickets have been issued, and, while the attendance will be large, the guests will be unexceptional.

GOV. HELM.—We regret having lost a communication that we received from our old friend Gov. Helm yesterday. We will say in justice to him that he disclaims having made any disunion speech or uttered any disunion sentiment, and declares that he is not and will not be at this time a candidate for any office.

SUDDEN DEATH.—Arthur W. Wigmore, aged about fifty years, a painter by trade and a native of Ireland, was found dead on Market street, between Third and Fourth, on Saturday night. It is supposed he died of intemperance and exposure.

NEW PAPER.—We have received the first number of a neat and spirited weekly paper called the Express, which is published by Mr. John E. Andrews, at Franklin, Simpson county, Ky. It will be mainly devoted to the maintenance of the Union.

☞ Treasurer Carey, of the theatre, will have his benefit on Friday night, when there will be a rush for seats, as he is a universal favorite and will present a novel and attractive bill.

☞ John Young was arrested by Officer Martz in the Western suburbs of the city on Saturday night. The accused is charged with having stolen a horse from Mr. Gray.

THE MILITARY EXPENDITURE OF SOUTH CAROLINA.—The total expenditures of South Carolina, the Governor states, upon the authority of the the State Treasurer, has been $640,317, including the cost of munitions and ordnance of all kinds. The expense incurred by the State since the date of her secession will be assumed, he takes it for granted, by the Confederate States.

FURTHER ENTRIES OF AMERICAN HORSES IN ENGLAND.—It will be remembered that the principal race won by an American horse in England last year was for the Stamford Plate, at the Newmarket July Meeting, which Satellite took. Mr. Ten Broeck is going to try it again this year, and has entered Maggiore, Optimist, and Olive Branch.

UNDER FALSE COLORS.—The Workingmen have their ticket to-day printed over an American flag as a pledge of loyalty to the Union. The disunionists, hoping to obtain a few votes for their candidates, have counterfeited the ticket and produced a fac simile to deceive the unwary. Lookout for the deception this afternoon.

GAIN OF ANOTHER MEMBER OF CONGRESS IN CONNECTICUT.—The telegraph reports the election of another Democratic and Union member of Congress from Connecticut, Mr. Woodruff. This makes the delegation stand—two Democrats and Union men to two Republicans. The Republicans had the whole four in the last Congress.

ESTATE TRANSFERRED.—We learn from the Paris Citizen that the sale of the personal estate of Hugh Roseberry, of Bourbon county, took place on the 29th ult. Every thing sold at fair prices. A saddle gelding brought $183, and a saddle mare $263. The farm, containing about three hundred acres, rented for $4 90 per acre.

☞ The New Orleans Crescent thinks the report of Gen. Ampudia's advance upon Brownsville in Texas at the head of a Mexican army not improbable.

☞ The Elizabethtown Democrat thinks there will be no opposition in that district to the Hon. John Young Brown's re-election to Congress.

PRACTICAL TRIUMPH OF RAREY'S SYSTEM.—The Boston Transcript says a horse attached to an omnibus, while passing through Court street, became contrary and refused to proceed. The driver tried the whip without success, and all his efforts to start the animal proved unavailing. Another driver reproved the hero of the lash for his want of knowledge of horseflesh, and undertook to start the team. He patted the refractory horse on his head and neck, took up his forefoot, and followed Mr. Rarey's advice in such cases. Three minutes of this treatment answered the purpose, and the horse started along when solicited. The crowd which had collected during these proceedings, cheered the man who had conquered the horse by the new and humane method.

UNION TRIUMPH IN RHODE ISLAND.—The Union party in Rhode Island have elected the Governor, a large majority of the Legislature, State officers, and both members of Congress. This is a change of four members, as both are now Republicans—Republicans, too, of the most ultra kind—who opposed all the compromises proposed in the last Congress. Last fall Lincoln had 12,000 votes to the Democrats and Union men's 7,000. Last winter Rhode Island repealed her personal liberty bills, and now she has followed it up by a complete sweep of the entire Republican element from all places within her gift.

DEATHS FROM HYDROPHOBIA.—Miss Frances Marks, aged 14 years, who was bit by a dog six weeks ago at Mountville, Lancaster county, Pa., died on Sunday of hydrophobia, after three days' intense suffering. Her sister, who was bit at the same time, manifested no symptoms of the disease until Sunday evening, when she was violently attacked, and died on Monday night. She was about twelve years of age. As the Lancaster Express truly remarks, two such lives are worth more than all the whelping curs in the world.

CURIOUS WILL CASE IN NEW YORK.—The will of the late Wm. Merchant, of New York, who left property to the amount of $100,000, was to have been proved on Tuesday in the Surrogate's Court, but was postponed on account of the absence of counsel. It is understood that, by the provisions of the will, the sum of $20,000 is left to a Miss Greenwood, and $80,000, or the balance of the estate, to Miss Charlotte A. Luza. Neither of these ladies was related to deceased, but it is said that the latter was to have been married to him.

A RIVAL OF BLONDIN.—The Cynthiana News says that Charles Alford, a worthy young gentleman and a native of Kentucky, recently walked a rope stretched from the court-house cupola to the Harrison Hotel, at a height of about 65 to 70 feet. He performed this fearful feat with as much ease and grace as if he had been dancing a quadrille. He stood on his head on the rope, and walked backwards. He can do anything that Blondin dare do. He will perform in Lexington, Frankfort, and Louisville at an early day.

A RUNAWAY SLAVE CAPTURED.—The Harrodsburg Press says that a negro boy, the slave of Mr. Rucker, formerly of Mercer county and who now lives in Missouri, was captured on Monday last by Isaac Vannarsdall. He has been hiding about Harrodsburg for over four years, and a reward of $300 offered for him. He is now in the Mercer county jail, subject to the order of his master.

DESTITUTION IN MISSISSIPPI—CORN RIOTS THREATENED.—Undoubtedly there is very great distress and perhaps equal distress North and South, growing out of the miserable sectional troubles of the country. If we speak of suffering in the South we are rudely charged with wilful misrepresentation by the secession organs in that section; but we presume that even they will not gainsay the subjoined statement, which we take from the Brandon (Miss.) Republican of the 28th ult. The Republican speaks of matters in its own section of Mississippi, matters in regard to which it cannot possibly be mistaken. It refers, as the reader will see, to the mission of Major Hawkins, the worthy old Mississippian who recently went to Illinois and procured large contributions of corn for the relief of his fellow-citizens. We do not believe there is yet any such feeling between the North and the South as would prevent either section, if appealed to, from contributing all in its power to the relief of the other:

[From the Brandon Republican.]

The Board of Police of this county met on Saturday last to adopt some measures to relieve the wants of the poor and destitute. It was proposed by some to appropriate the funds in the county treasury for that purpose, but the Board has no authority for doing it, and they adjourned without any definite action, except to call a meeting of the citizens of the county on Saturday next, to see if some measures of relief could not be adopted. We hope there will be a large meeting of those who are able to give, and that they will all give to the extent of their means. Something must be done, and that speedily too, or hundreds of our citizens will certainly perish with hunger. We want to see those that have been denouncing that good and pure hearted old gentleman, Benj. Hawkins, and boasting that they were ready and willing to give half they had to the poor, come forward and subscribe liberally. Will they do it? We will venture the prediction that one hundred dollars will not be subscribed by that class of men in the county. Some of them have been appealed to heretofore, and their reply was that there was no one in need except a few lazy, drunken and trifling fellows. We deny it. There are hundreds of hard working, honest men, who are almost entirely destitute, and who must suffer unless they get relief in some form. We have heard of a large number of men who have given up their crops and gone off to hunt work and get food for their families. If they had the corn to feed their families and stock they could make a crop and pay for it in the fall. These men do not want it given to them. They only want it on a credit until next fall.

Our old friend Hiram Jones informs us that there is a great deal of destitution in his neighborhood, and that unless relief is afforded in the next ten days armed bodies of men will take corn by force from those who have it.

Maj. Hawkins has returned with 17,000 bushels of corn and 1,000 bushels of potatoes, which will be a great relief for the present, but it will last but a few days. 100,000 bushels more is needed, and there is no money here to buy it with. Let those who are able give liberally of their means to purchase corn for the destitute, and let an agent be appointed to go and purchase it, and then let those who are able to make good notes give their notes to said agent, and let the agent proceed to Illinois, or some other favored land, and buy the corn on a credit.

DIET AND HABITS OF THE NEW YORK LITERATI.—The Charleston Mercury having made a general onslaught on the men of letters in New York as vagabonds, rogues, and thieves, and recommended that they "be put at once on short commons—nay, put adrift altogether for grub"—Vanity Fair thus harmoniously carries out the Mercury's idea of their condition:

It is not difficult to infer from this elegant and refined paragraph what the editor of the Mercury imagines the life of literary men of the highest standing in New York to be, and sequentially what his own probably is. As everybody knows, they are all ragged wretches living at best on board wages, writing leaders for "grub," trading a paragraph once in a while for a potato, or a biography for a biscuit. N. P. Willis and General Morris can be seen almost any day, selling their own Home Journal in the street and trading off single copies for a "small stew" in the Fulton Market. William Cullen Bryant has a lunch of pork and onions pretty regular, but even he hangs round the kitchen of the Metropolitan Hotel of an evening, for the sake of getting a feed out of that dish of thirty ingredients and seventy-seven syllables, described by Aristophanes, in the Ecclesiazausae, and on which the servants of that inn are said to be fed. Briggs is allowed a Connecticut pie per diem when industrious, but then he likes milk on it, for which he writes poems for a stump-tail Twenty-Second ward pure Orange swill county establishment.

Bayard Taylor feeds most sumptuously of all of them, receiving from Gosling, sauerkraut and bologna sausages—yes—as much as he can eat inside of fifteen minutes, twice a day, in return for which he delivers a monthly lecture on his Hebrew benefactors. Bancroft has a weekly stipend of soda crackers and hard-boiled eggs from his publisher. That is all he gets. Stoddard and Aldrich cultivate the muse on apples and doughnuts, which we regret to say they generally steal from infirm old Irish women in Nassau street, in pilfering which they are aided by one Fisk as "cover." C. A. Dana exists by hooking from stables handfulls of corn and parching it upon the Tribune office stove. Fitz Hugh Ludlow lives on hash, from which he derives the surname of Hashish Eater. Fred Cozzens has a shanty and a small garden up the river by which he is enabled occasionally to enjoy a thin Julienne, and sometimes a raw turnip, or carrot, or treat his friends to a few fresh stalks of "sparrowgrass." Richard Grant White is doing pretty well at present—having sold out his Shakspeare and mortgaged his daily labor for life for an annuity of a daily feed at Buttercake Bill's, where he generally takes it out in a plate of pork and beans, "most all pork with a good many beans." Stedman lives on lager bier and pretzels which are supplied gratis by New York publishers to all who work above thirty hours on a stretch for them. And this is all he ever sees. Park Godwin rings in to suppers at gambling houses when he can. So on with all the rest, of every soul of whom it may be written as it was of Pantagruel of old that "he could not reach anything fit to eat, but with great pain stooped now and then a little to take with the tip of the tongue some wretched lick bit or morsel."

But since such is the life led in the best of times by leading literati in a community which is not the worst in the world for them, and where they are certainly not without honor, we shiver with compassion to think what must be the fare and fame of a rude ungrammatical scribbler—say in South Carolina—where the patronage of literature is, to judge by the wails and howls sent from their own periodicals, at a doleful discount indeed! If the first writers of the metropolis are ignorant, starved, mischievous and thieving—and the prominent and most talented representative journal of secession says all this distinctly of them—what must be the status of the provincial penman lacking their culture, their knowledge of life, their opportunities—and who, unable to make a living as they do in the great world, has sunk down to the level of a hack partisan scrawler in a small country cotton town! We shudder at the thought of such abject wretchedness, and yielding to our immense and ungovernable Humanity—dissolve in tears.

(By telegraph to the Cincinnati papers.)

WASHINGTON, April 5.

The Cabinet and best informed parties here now consider a collision between the Federal Government and the Southern rebels inevitable.

A member of Congress from your State, who has spoken to the President within the last twenty-four hours upon the subject, told me to day that blood would be spilled in less than ten days.

I feel authorized in stating that the present naval and army movements mean nothing less than the protection of the Southern forts from the attacks of the rebel army, and the collection of the revenue from on shipboard.

J. M. Botts saw the President, and advised him not to attempt the reinforcement of the Southern forts, as it would certainly fan the secession excitement into sweeping flames.

Some St. Louis merchants, now here have earnestly urged upon the Administration the necessity of strictly executing the revenue laws and preventing the importation of goods free of duty from Southern ports.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC RAILROAD—DR. J. FOWLKES.—The following letter from Dr. Fowlkes gives important information and useful advice to the stockholders of the Southern Pacific Railroad. His arguments are of a character to induce every one interested in this great enterprise to make one more effort to place it beyond the reach of all future contingencies. The delay of the last Congress to meet the popular desires for an appropriation to aid its construction; the monetary difficulties which surround the country, and the disgraceful position into which Texas has been forced by the secessionists, have all contributed to a crisis in the affairs of the company which should be promptly met and remedied. The mode proposed at the recent meeting of stockholders in this city seems the easiest way of avoiding all future embarrassment and putting the company on a sure and permanent basis. We therefore commend the expositions of Dr. Fowlkes to the attention of those interested, with the hope that his advice may be promptly acted upon, as it seems to point to the only course that can be taken under the peculiar circumstances in which the company is involved:

To the Editors of the Louisville Journal:

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 2, 1861.

GENTLEMEN: I returned last night from New Orleans, and take pleasure in giving you some of the results of our visit. I inclose an outline of the Hon. V. K. Stevenson's address to the stockholders which was well received. All of the largest stockholders are paying up the additional purchase of stock as recommended by the Louisville meeting of stockholders on the 15th March. They pay with the assurance of our President and Directors that all who pay will be protected, and all who do not must give up the enterprise. The road cannot be built without money, and if stockholders refuse or now neglect to supply it, it is a virtual abandonment of it. Our largest and best stockholders, when I left New Orleans, were zealously and cheerfully responding, satisfied that the best interests of the company and themselves were to lop off all who have not the disposition or the means to duly sustain and keep up this enterprise. Col. Stevenson assumes the one dollar per share upon the 460,000 shares of stock invested in the unsold stock will yield a sum sufficient, with the means of the company, to finish and complete fifty more miles of road, making in all seventy-five miles, and this will yield a large yearly income; and with this income the road and lands of the company will enable them to construct the road across Texas, even though no Government aid be given to the company and though we fail finally to have the contracts with Messrs. E. de Bellot des Minieres, Brothers, & Co., and associates ratified. He however, with others, still confidently expects Government assistance and the ratification of the French contracts referred to.

Nothing but the times has made this call upon our stockholders necessary, and now really indispensable; and has created an exigency not to be avoided. If the call is not responded to our interests must be sacrificed. This fact is verily so. A part of our shareholders refuse to advance money unless all advance, and unless all do the benefits of this stupendous project must enure to "the few" well and able to meet its necessities now. Many have their attention directed to the sacrifice and purchase of our road and franchises. There is no lack of buyers. "The few" who pay require a sale and repurchase for such as shall pay, unless nearly all shall pay up. To this policy our President and Directory are pledged, for without such pledges none will pay and all would be sacrificed as a whole. Now let us examine the effects of this policy to those who pay, and when they are well understood, all able to pay will certainly do so, I think. We have 460,000 shares of stock with $5 per share paid thereon, making $2,300,000 of capital stock. We have a large and valuable property, worth nearly this sum, and perspectively the whole of it. Now suppose that only 200,000 shares pay up the $1, making $200,000 in cash, and the balance of stock be cut off, say 260,000 shares, out of the total 460,000, the effect will be to give this property and all the rights and franchises of the company to the 200,000 shares which have paid. The stock then becomes theirs at once, worth in property $10 a share, and if sold for that will produce by a resale of the 260,000 shares cut off the sum of $2,600,000, leaving a company with all the present property, and this fund to go on with the work. But if sold at present prices it will yield $1,300,000 as a fund without more stock than we now have out, and this fund, added to the resources of the company, will, in the judgment of President Stevenson, prove sufficient to build the road to the Pacific ocean, with the munificent land grants of Texas to aid it.

All who can ought to pay. All who are able and will not, ought not to expect "the few" willing to pay to incur burdens to give them protection. Money must come, and from all not a part. Justice requires this. Justice makes us pay our debts. Justice to Texas and her people demands the progress of this work. "The few" cannot pay and progress, if their associates refuse or neglect to meet this exigency; they must, however reluctant and painful, separate and unite with those who can and will aid to "push on the column." Once before, this company became entangled, when a call of fifty cents a share was recommended and promptly responded to. It produced a fund not exceeding the sum of $150,000 towards a debt, increased by expenses to some $800,000. This fund of $150,000 protected the company from sale and sacrifice, the stock then largely exceeded the property of the company, and it was reduced to a sum below the value of the company's property, and by active exertions and persevering efforts, enough stock was then sold to liquidate the whole debt of the company; sales of something like $650,000 were added to the loan of fifty cents a share. This was applied to existing debts, and no part of it was left, or could be appropriated towards the building of the road. The loan of fifty cents a share contributed to free and disembarrass the company, only a small proportion, and now, those most ready to pay and assist in the crisis, are those who bought the $650,000 of stocks after its reduction. Those who paid or loaned the fifty cents per share generally seem to feel that to assist to pay the then debt was to construct the road. To pay the debts then, "the few had to do;" to meet this crisis "the few" must do it again; the supine and indifferent must give place to parties who have the will and the means; it is a delusion to suspect or imagine that the Southern Pacific Railroad will build itself, and the sooner those who expect it wake up to the fact, the better for the enterprise and their own interests.

The fewer who pay, the greater is their advantage pecuniarily. Before I left New Orleans, the large holders of stock present at the meeting on the 25th ult. became sensible of the soundness, necessity, and benefit to themselves and the enterprise of Col. V. K. Stevenson's policy; they were cheerfully responding and some 140,000 shares had been arranged as required by the terms of the Louisville meeting on the 15th of March. There is no difficulty to supply, by a resale of cut off stock, the deficit of defaulters in this policy. No advantage can result to stockholders from this great work without money to progress with it, and it is due to those able and willing to pay, by those unable or unwilling to pay, to surrender it to those able and willing, inasmuch as no benefit can flow from inaction, inability, and incapacity to build the road. It is due to Texas and her people that we abandon the work or prosecute it. It is seemingly hard for stockholders to lose what they have already paid, but this results from other operations, when parties prove inadequate to their successful prosecution. I sincerely regret myself to see loss overtake any shareholder; if in my power I would protect him; but I shall do well to protect my own stock, and to do so, I have forced sales of real estate, and am still forcing sales, determined to protect my stock at whatever sacrifice apparently I find essential to protect it. I hope to live to see the stock and funds of the Southern Pacific Railroad sought for in every European market as a favorite investment. I address you this for the benefit of the stockholders in Kentucky, always ready, liberal, and just, that they may fully realize the necessity for action and be also protected.

Truly your friend,

J. FOWLKES.

THE NEW TARIFF—Its Operation at the New York Custom House.—The Morrill tariff went into effect on the 1st instant, but it is too early yet to see how it works. The New York Times says:

Considerable quantities of sugar were on Monday withdrawn from bond for consumption, the importers profiting by the large difference between ¾ of a cent a pound and 24 per cent. ad valorem duty, as under the tariff of '47. All goods actually shipped on or before the 17th of March come in under the former rates, and all goods remaining in bond unclaimed on the 1st of April on the same privilege. It will thus be some days before any perceptible effect of the new tariff can be experienced at the Custom house.

The New York World says of the new law:

The working of it is destined to produce a very complicated system of appraisement, and consequently will require nearly three times the amount of clerical force heretofore employed, and considerable difficulty will be experienced between the custom-house officials and importers. The bill has a variety of defects, as the importers allege, and even under the best of its working phases, will be the cause of much bickering. Much larger warehouses will be needed by the new system from the fact that the bill compels a variety of goods which were formerly appraised by quantity, to be weighed, and owing to the process which some of the goods are to be subjected to, it will be seen that more time will be occupied in passing the goods from the custom-house department to the importer than by the old tariff. The merchants are unanimously complaining of its unfairness and injustice, and are calling for its repeal.

The Herald remarks:

"The act allows goods on which the duties are lessened to be withdrawn from bonded warehouses on payment of the duties therein provided. Importers have not been slow in finding out this provision, and the consequence has been, that the goods on which a reduced duty is to be levied have been hurried into public stores during the past month. The principal articles thus warehoused are sugar, molasses, Manilla hemp, and indigo. But Monday was the 1st of April, and those goods could then be withdrawn for the first time at the new rate. Importers who had delayed their sales until then made large withdrawals of merchandise under the new rates. About $50,000 worth of sugar and molasses was thus withdrawn. The work of passing the withdrawals is more than double, and consequently more time was consumed in getting the entries through. This gave rise to much dissatisfaction on the part of the importers."

ABSINTHE.—The growing use of Absinthe in this country prompts us to publish a word of warning those to who have been induced to try to like the seductive poison; our attention has been particularly drawn to the subject, as the French government has interdicted its use in the army and navy:

Real Swiss Absinthe, (but the stuff sold here is infinitely worse) is made by the distillation of the tops of wormwood, anniseed, angelica root, and sweet marjoram in alcohol. Composed of plants of highly exciting qualities, mixed with highly concentrated alcohol, it acts directly upon the nervous system, having a much more positive effect than other alcoholic liquors. In the process of distillation the plants furnish several volatile oils.

Probably few persons in mixing their absinthe have ever stopped to consider the cause of the "whitening," or ever thought that the better the the liquor "mixes," the more powerfully poisonous it is. The white deposit, which in precipitating renders the liquor turbid, comes from the essential oils of anise, wormwood, angelica, &c., which are held in solution of alcohol, but which are not soluble in water or alcohol weakened with it.

The following are given as the preliminary effects of the habitual use of absinthe: The muscular system is brought into a state of uncertainty and indecision, which is easy to recognize by contractions and trembling of the forearm, of the hand, and inferior members. Strange sensations are observed—such as tingling and pricking of the skin, heaviness of the limbs, and numbness—the hand seizing and as suddenly letting go anything within its reach. In standing the patients require something to lean against, not being solid upon their legs, the knees tremble and bend; a general air of hebetude marks the features; the lips, the tongue, and the muscles of the face tremble; the eye is sad and sorrowful; the skin becomes yellowish; dyspepsia and wasting away ensues; the mucous membranes assume a violet hue; the hair falls off and the whole framework of the man falls into a premature old age and dilapidation. By reason of the progress of the disease of the brain, the sleep of the patient is disturbed; he has terrible dreams and nightmares and sudden wakings. He has hallucinations, illusions, blinding of the eyes, vertigos, hypochondria, a very marked embarrassment and dwelling upon words in speaking, and a constantly decreasing strength of intellect.

CHRONIC CATARRH, OR BRONCHITIS.

BOSTON, June 7, 1855.

For several years I have suffered from a Catarrhal Affection consequent upon Bronchitis. I tried various remedies without relief. The system appeared failing under repeated attacks. It is now six months since I had any attack, and I am no doubt adding my experience to that of others that the PERUVIAN SYRUP produced this favorable change.

EXCITING NEWS FROM JAPAN.—The Japanese correspondent of the New York Tribune, writing from Kanagawa, under date of January 4, says:

We are again in the midst of a thousand and one rumors, similar to those by which the peace of our foreign community was disturbed nearly a year ago. Again large numbers of Japanese soldiers have been quartered in the barracks of Oki-no-kami, at Kanagawa, and several hundred more in the half-barracks half-fort of Yetzisen-no-kami, at Yokuhama. The new fort at Kanagawa is garrisoned, and on that side of the bay patrols, armed with muskets, sentinel the streets at night. Guard houses bristle with bayonets, and all the Government officials and police are on the qui vive. The Japanese Government at Yedo have officially notified the foreign representatives that a large band of desperate men have resolved to burn, plunder, and murder the foreign settlements. This band of men are variously reported to be soldiers of Prince Mito, who had sworn to avenge their late master's wrongs by involving the Government in a bloody feud with the foreigners, or to be discharged soldiers of the Prince, who, without means of livelihood, are ready to rob and kill Japanese and foreigners indiscriminately. The Government promises to protect the foreign population to the utmost, but at the same time urges the embassies at Yedo to remove to the imperial citadel as the only sure way of protecting their lives from secret attacks. So, too, the consuls at Kanagawa have been requested to move across the bay to Yokuhama, where they may be more easily protected. These requests have not been complied with, or the foreign officials are by no means certain that the danger is so imminent as represented, or sure of the good faith of the Government which requests them to vacate their posts. The Japanese have therefore largely increased their guard at the Yedo embassies, and the police and military force at Kanagawa and Yokuhama. Beside these, three Daimos have been called upon to furnish each a further contingent for the protection of those places. Guard boats at night are continually rowing about the harbor and its approaches, for it is said the main attack is to be by the sea. They further tell us that desperate men seek to get into the foreign settlements, disguised as laborers and servants, to promote the better their diabolical intentions. So that if we are not frightened, it is not the fault of the Japanese, and if it is a mere attempt at fright on their part, they have certainly gone very deliberately to work, and are taking a vast amount of trouble to effect it. The Japanese common people appear to be more disturbed than anybody else by rumored threats of ravaging their villages with fire, for the purpose of plunder.

There are several vessels of war in the harbor—four English steamers, one French steamer, one Russian steamer and one frigate, and one Dutch brig-of-war—so that we are amply protected against any open attack. So rife were these threatening tales, that, two nights since, the Dutch brig was ready for action, with shotted guns. Rear Admiral Jones, after a long interview with the Governor of Yokuhama, told his Excellency that if he would only point out to him where this band of desperadoes were he would seize them for him, if the Japanese Government were unable. The Governor declined the proffered assistance.

The foreign community, while disposed to act with caution, avoiding being out in the streets at night as far as possible, and taking the precaution to go armed, are by no means alarmed for their personal safety. We have lived in the midst of dire forebodings so long that we are growing insensible.

There is, doubtless, something of importance concealed under this fresh outbreak. As I have before told you, this Government is of itself weak; its strength is derived, not absolute, and in my last I told you that the country was in a great state of unrest. I believe there are difficulties in the Empire, serious ones, but I believe they are primarily of more importance to themselves than to the foreigners; that if the foreigners are jeoparded, it is because of secondary relations to a Government not sure of its position at home. The result of foreign trade has been such that a strong diversion has been made towards a favorable foreign policy by princes whose estates are greatly enriched by the inflow of foreign silver in exchange for the products of their estates. So, at least, Japanese authority, of a reliable character, assures us. It is altogether probable that Mito has left his feud with the present dynasty a legacy to his son, who is said to have sworn uncompromising hostility; and although he has been hitherto represented as well affected toward foreigners, they may suffer in his quarrel with the throne. Mito is of illustrious family, a descendant in a long line from the ancient emperors—allied by blood to some of the most powerful princes, and he will make no open movement without secret sympathisers and backers.

GIGANTIC PANORAMIC AND DIORAMIC ILLUSTRATIONS OF

WORLD-RENOWNED LAST

ARCTIC VOYAGE,

Embracing a complete Voyage from New York to the regions of Ice, and vividly portraying the perilous adventures, wonderful discoveries, and singular phenomena witnessed by Dr. KANE and his brave companions during their famous Expedition in search of Sir JOHN FRANKLIN, executed by the great American Artist GEORGE HEILGE, Esq., from private Drawings and Sketches furnished by the late Dr KANE. Nothing that art could contribute or ingenuity suggest has been neglected to render this a life-like representation of the dreadful sufferings endured by the American Arctic Explorers. The Exhibition has been produced regardless of expense, and, in order to strikingly display the wonders and beauties of those Unknown Regions, a variety of Chemical and Mechanical Appliances have been introduced, by which the visitor may realize the grandeur of the Polar Regions. Several of the most interesting Relics of this ever-memorable Expedition will be exhibited, among which are Dr KANE's celebrated Esquimaux sledge-dog Toodlamick, the beautiful Kamtschatka dog Siko, presented to Mr. Thomas Hickey (Dr Kane's companion) by Commodore McClure, who accomplished the Northwest Passage, ARCTIC DRESSES, ESQUIMAUX BOAT or KAYACK, WALRUS'S TUSKS, WHALES' TEETH &c.

Mr. THOMAS HICKEY, who accompanied Dr. Kane's last Arctic Expedition, and who won for himself an enviable reputation through his elevated attachment to the lamented navigator, will appear at the close of each exhibition in Esquimaux costume.

☞ The great drawback to persons emigrating to the extreme South and Western country is the fear they have of the Fever and Ague—the most direful of all diseases. Every day we hear of persons attacked by this disease and made helpless in a short time without any means of affording relief. In view of the great demand for a remedy, Dr. Hostetter has presented his CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS, whose curative powers for all diseases of the stomach have been universally acknowledged. The Bitters, prepared after a long experience and deep study, have received the encomiums of the most eminent physicians as well as all classes from every part of our country. TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

From the Evening Bulletin.

NEW YORK, April 6.

The Government has chartered the steamer Illinois, which will go to sea under sealed orders to-day or Monday. Her mails and passengers for Europe go in the City of Baltimore.

The Tribune's Washington despatch says no official intelligence is received that Maj. Anderson's supplies have been stopped; that the authorized statement made that the Spanish Government is not responsible for the demonstrations at St. Domingo; also, that no orders have been issued for the blockade of Southern ports; that Com. Stringham's commission has a different purpose; that the Government is still without intelligence whether the reinforcement of Fort Pickens had been effected, and is naturally very anxious, as orders were sent weeks ago.

A despatch from Baltimore states that a large body of volunteers left that city to rally around the flag of the Union in Texas under Houston.

Washington despatches assert that the President is daily receiving numerous despatches from all portions of the country urging no surrender of any forts, and offering to volunteer in attempts of reinforcement. One man offers to reinforce Fort Sumpter at ten days notice for $5,000.

Gov. Curtin, of Pennsylvania, had a long interview with Gen. Scott and Secretary Cameron to-day. It is rumored that Pennsylvania will immediately assume a war footing.

RICHMOND, Va., April 5.

In the convention to-day, the sixth resolution was up in Committee of the Whole. It was amended, on motion of Mr. Critcher, by inserting the words—"dissolve their connection with," in lieu of the words, "cast off obedience to." Mr. Moore moved to strike out the word "wrongs" and insert "causes," the idea being that wrongs did not impel States to secede; which was rejected by a large majority. Some other amendments were defeated. Mr. Bouldin moved to amend by inserting "earnestly desire" in lieu of the words "indulge the hope." Agreed to. Mr. Wise moved to strike out the whole and insert the substitute contemplating resistance to wrongs, indulging in the desire for an adjustment, and that Virginia should not offer or adopt any terms of adjustment which ought not to be acceptable to the seceded States and restore them to the Union. The committee refused to strike out—yeas 57, nays 63.

Mr. Wise moved to amend by adding the last clause of the foregoing substitute, which was rejected—64 to 71. The resolution was adopted.

The seventh resolution was then taken up, and amended, on motion of Mr. Wise, by striking out all from the word "governments" to the last sentence—yeas, 68; nays, 67.

Mr. Leake moved to amend by adding a declaration that the North must abstain from interference with slavery in States and common territory, and abandon all hostile political organizations. Rejected—40 to 93.

The seventh resolution as amended was adopted.

The eighth resolution was passed by for the present.

The ninth resolution was taken up.

Mr. Conrad moved to strike out the first line of words—"exercise of this right"—and insert "withdrawal from the Federal Government." Agreed to.

Other amendments were offered, pending which the Convention adjourned.

[Special Despatch to the New York Herald.]

NEW ORLEANS, April 5.

More sensation despatches from Washington today state that President Davis has ordered Gen. Beauregard to stop Maj. Anderson's supplies and cut off all communication with him, and place Fort Sumpter in a state of seige. If such was the fact we should have received immediate intelligence from Montgomery and Charleston.

The Cabinet at Montgomery believe no belligerent steps will be resorted to.

Advices from Jamaica to the 23d ult. state that Prince Alfred met a royal reception at Barbadoes. Preparations are making to give him a magnificent ball at Jamaica.

WASHINGTON, April 5.

It is understood that the Secretary of the Treasury will receive offers for treasury notes redeemable in two years for the balance of the loan not taken under the last notice. An offer has been made for two millions at one-eighth per cent. premium.

B. W. Cheesemen has been appointed assistant Treasurer at San Francisco; Thos. H. Turner, Marshal for the Eastern District of Virginia; Chas. S. Loring as Chief Engineer in the Navy.

The Interior Department has under consideration the subject of the organization of the Land Offices in the new territories of the Decotah, Colorado, and Nevada.

It is not true that the Southern Commissioners have taken a house in Washington. It is well understood that the length of their sojourn here will be dependent on circumstances.

Much alarm exists here on account of military preparations of the Government, which preserves entire silence.

Lieut. Gilmore had an interview this afternoon with Secretary Cameron and Gen. Scott, and left immediately for Pensacola.

John Minor Botts arrived here with a large delegation of Virginians to ascertain by personal conference the exact intentions of the Government. Mr. Botts visited the President and advised the evacuation of Fort Sumpter.

An officer of South Carolina has also arrived to recruit for the Southern army.

NEW YORK, April 6.

Forged Virginia State bonds were sent to Livermore, Cleats & Mason, by a man named R. M. Barbour, alias James Elliott, who is under arrest for the forgery. It appears that the only steamers yet chartered by the Government are the Atlantic and Illinois. The former was fitting to carry nine hundred troops and provisions for sixty days. The Powhattan is probably detained to convey them to their destination. The corvette Savannah will probably be put in charge of workmen to day. Two companies are reported to have left Fort Hamilton last night.

The steamer Water Witch was to have gone into commission at Philadelphia yesterday.

Large quantities of army stores were shipped from the piers last night on board the Atlantic.

The City of Baltimore sailed to-day for Liverpool, taking $100,000.

The steamer United Kingdom, from Glasgow on the 23d ult., arrived at Portland yesterday afternoon. News anticipated.

The Times's Washington despatch says that Dr. Fisher, of Fauquier county, has been appointed Marshal of Eastern Virginia. The same authority says a despatch had been received from a responsible person in Charleston, stating that Gen. Beauregard had left for Morris Island. He is reported to have said that Major Anderson now had but two alternatives—to evacuate Sumpter in forty-eight hours or suffer bombardment. The Times's despatch also says that the Southern Commissioners express the belief that a powerful policy will prevail, but, if the policy of the Federal Government is the enforcement of the Federal laws, the seceded States are ready to resist to the bitter end.

A special dispatch to the Herald dated Charleston, April 6, says war is expected within twenty-four hours. Every man is ordered on duty. The excitement is intense.

FALL RIVER, MASS., April 6.

The woolen mill and machinery of the Dunlap Manufacturing Company was destroyed by fire last night. The stock of dry goods was mostly saved. Insurance $31,000.

PITTSBURG, April 6, M.

River 7 feet 9 inches by pier mark and at a stand. Weather clear.

CINCINNATI, April 6, M.

River fallen 4 inches; now 21 feet. Raining for the last 18 hours.

ST. LOUIS, April 6, M.

River rising again. There was a heavy rain last night. Now clear and mild.

Reported for the Journal.

NEW YORK, April 6.

Sixteen double-banked boats, for landing troops, have been put aboard the Atlantic. She sails to-night. The Powhattan has left the Navy Yard.

The Express says the Secretary of the Treasury has authorized the Sub-Treasurer to sell a portion or all of the five million treasury notes. Subscriptions for the notes at ½ cent. premium are being made up among the banks, bankers, and trustees of savings banks, and the subscriptions will, without doubt, be able to place the whole amount.

The Post learns from a Virginian, who had it from McCullough's own lips, that he has organized a force of five thousand men to seize Washington the instant the first blood is spilled.

Special despatches from Washington to the Post Commercial, say it is reported that Anderson having refused to surrender Fort Sumpter, a bombardment had commenced. Our own despatches from Charleston direct, make no mention of it, and it is probably incorrect.

Special despatches to the Commercial say that Lieut. Talbott has arrived from Fort Sumpter and the Cabinet is in session on his despatches.

The same authority says Col. Albert, head of the Topographical Bureau here, has been relieved from duty, and Maj. Bache appointed in his stead.

The Commercial's despatch says orders have been issued for the despatch of the steam frigate Mississippi to sea immediately. Also, that John Minor Botts, and other prominent Virginians, say that the President declines to commit himself as to his policy or intentions. Also, that the report that the President had concluded to call on the loyal States for troops is untrue, and that it is not thought any collision was likely at present.

The Post says the Postmaster General finally decided to retain the present postoffice site in New York, and that a warrant has been drawn for the purchase.

The appointments for the District of Columbia will be as follows: Brown, of Maine, Navy Agent; Col. Lemon, of Illinois, Marshal; Wood, of New York, Commissioner Public Buildings.

The steamer Pawnee, which has been lying at the Navy-yard since the first of March, left today for Norfolk. She is in full war trim. Her ultimate destination is not publicly known.

Lieutenant Talbot has returned to Fort Sumpter. He first reported to the Secretary of War, who accompanied him to the President's house, where he remained for several hours.

The President has appointed the following postmasters: George B. Roberts at Laporte; Jno. Andrews, at Michigan City; Wm. Williamson, at Logansport; F. K. Farnham, at South Bend; H. M. Nicely, at Evansville, Ind; Mrs. Margaret Settiman, postmistress at Pottsville; Thomas D. Darres, at Unionville; Chas. F. Bronson, at Paducah, Ky.; Jacob F. Hockstetter, at Nebraska City; Wm. Luce, at Xenia.

Major Holmes, commander of the forces here, has resigned, as has also Major Johnson.

Captain Meigs, of the corps of Topographical Engineers left this city to day, in command of a company of carpenters and other mechanics, lately arrived from the Washington Navy Yard. Their destination is unknown. Meigs, in reply to questions where his orders directed him, remarked, "You will know all about it in ten days." Large numbers of men are at work on the frigates Wabash and Roanoke, and brig Perry.

The Powhattan has received orders to touch at Fort Hamilton, for troops, on her way to sea.

Troops at Forts Hamilton and Columbus are packing up for immediate movement. Captain Barry's battery is on board the Atlantic.

Orders have been received in this city for increased quantities of sand bags, and 40,000 are now being manufactured for the Tortugas.

Despatches to the Express say the Attorney-General has decided there is no legal manner of collecting revenue in the seceded States short of additional legislation by Congress.

The steam sloop of war Pawnee left to-day for Norfolk, where she will receive orders.

CHARLESTON, April 6.

The public are by no means disappointed by the recent news of warlike movements. The Confederacy is ready to receive its visitors in any form. The supplies of Fort Sumpter are not yet cut off. Affairs, however, are culminating.

PETERSBURG, April 6.

The excitement is very great and the war news is discussed in every corner. All are willing it should come, and all say Virginia should go out of the Union.

BOSTON, April 6.

Great activity is manifested at the Charlestown navy yard, over 800 persons being employed.

The brig Bainbridge is ready for sea and is waiting for her crew. The steam frigates Union, Mississippi, and Colorado are also nearly ready.

AUGUSTA, GA., April 6.

Little reliance is placed in the despatches from the North respecting war preparations, but it is universally conceded that all prefer such a policy to suspense.

NEW ORLEANS, April 5.

The report that war vessels had been ordered to the mouth of the Mississippi created considerable excitement.

SUNDAY NIGHT'S DESPATCHES

CHARLESTON, April 6.

A special despatch to the New York Herald says that reliable information has been received from the North that reinforcements have been ordered to Fort Sumter, accompanied by a squadron under commander Stringham. Five thousand Southern men, in addition to those in the fortifications, will be ready to take the field within 24 hours. The ultimatum, siege or surrender, has not yet been sent to Major Anderson, but with the supplies to-day he was notified by General Beauregard that they were the last which he would receive, which is equivalent to a declaration of hostilities. This is positive. Troops have been ordered to rendezvous at points remote from Charleston, but within supporting distance, to watch the movements of the enemy. Governor Pickens was to-day inspecting the batteries, accompanied by his council and senior officers. Bloodshed is inevitable. A formal demand for the surrender of Fort Sumter has not been and may not be made.

WASHINGTON, April 6.

[Special to the New York Herald.]

An officer of the army stated to-day that the first collision would probably occur in Charleston harbor. He says that the Federal Government, having decided to evacuate Fort Sumpter, was about to send an order how it should be be done, but General Beauregard and Governor Pickens refused to accept the plan of evacuation. What order or plan was proposed was not fully known. It is understood that the Federal Government wanted to leave a small force to protect the property of the United States. This the Carolinians peremptorily refused to allow. They demand an unconditional surrender. These facts were laid before the President, who decided, that, unless they at once accepted the order or plan, the Fort would not be evacuated, and when the ball is opened he will blockade every principal port in the Confederate States, commencing with Charleston and ending with the mouths of the Mississippi. He said that if an attack was made on Fort Sumpter, an attempt would be made to throw reinforcements into it. The Government don't expect to succeed, but means to make an effort. The Government means to hold Fort Pickens at all hazards.

WASHINGTON, April 7.

Army and navy officers, in common with others, are unacquainted with the present military movements, but believe they are intended principally for Texas. Governor Houston has given full advices to the Federal authorities, and the result, it is anticipated, will be the re-establishment of the Executive of Texas.

The Charleston Courier of Friday says, from the best information, that in a few days leave of absence will be granted for an indefinite period to the entire command at Sumpter.

MONTGOMERY, April 6.

The people are pleased with the prospects of a brush, and all faces are bright with anticipation.

FAYETTEVILLE, ARK., April 6.

Secession and Union flags were raised here today, and the crowd was addressed by secession and Union speakers.

RICHMOND, April 6.

Outside of the convention the war news did not produce much sensation.

PETERSBURG, April 6.

The war tidings produced great excitement here. The people say, "Let it come—Virginia must secede."

NORFOLK, April 7.

John A. Lawrence, Unionist, has been re-elected Mayor of Portsmouth by 206 majority.

The news produced an unfavorable feeling towards the Administration.

NEW YORK, April 7.

The steam frigate Powhattan left the Navy Yard yesterday, and at quarantine was intercepted by the steam tug Griffin and proceeded to sea.

The steamer Atlantic sailed to day.

The Illinois has been chartered by the Government and will load with troops and stores for the Gulf, immediately.

The Baltic has also been chartered.

The War Department is negotiating for several large steamers for transports.

LEAVENWORTH, April 6.

The following was the vote for U. S. Senator, at the Joint Session of the Kansas Legislature: James H. Lane 55, S. C. Pomeroy 52, M. J. Parrott 50, Frederick P. Stanton 20, A. J. Isaacs 11, scattering 8.

Some doubt is cast upon the legality of the election, owing to an excess in the number of votes.

The Governor will withhold the certificates of election until the matter is cleared up.

The Senate has the matter under investigation.

Copious rains have fallen during the past week throughout the State and the crops look promising.

MACON, GA., April 6.

Troops are moving rapidly forward for Pensacola. Eight companies have left here and the remainder will leave on Tuesday.

WHAT GOV. PICKENS EXPECTS.—A correspondent of the New York Herald, giving the result of a conversation between Yancey and Gov. Pickens, of South Carolina, mentions the views entertained by that functionary as to the course which England, France, and Spain, are likely to pursue in reference to the Southern Confederacy. Gov. Pickens says:

"I believe the Confederate States will soon be recognized by most of the foreign powers. The intelligence from France and England is favorable. Spain and Denmark have already expressed sympathy. We have no fears of Russia, Prussia, or Austria. That we shall have the support of the French Government I feel assured, for in the event of the North attempting to colonize Mexico, we shall join with Spain for the division of Mexico, and the securement of Cuba to the Spanish crown. If England, or any other foreign power, interferes, France will certainly support Spain; and the re-possession of a part of her old colonies will stimulate the country to unprecedented exertions for the attainment of her long cherished object. Briefly, the division of the territory of Mexico, between the Confederate States of America and Spain, and the safety of Cuba secured to the latter power, are events that will inevitably initiate the interference of France in our behalf, for our cause will be that of Spain, and France is sure to be the ally of Spain. The Confederate States will never be restored into the old Union."

HOW JOHN WENTWORTH WOULD FIGHT THE SOUTH.—We copy the following from a late number of John Wentworth's paper, the Chicago Democrat. Though we have always been opposed to the raising of the national revenues by direct taxation, there is certainly a great deal of force in Long John's suggestions:

HOW TO FIGHT THE SOUTH WITH PEACEFUL WEAPONS.—There is a good deal said about collecting the revenue at the Southern ports and the difficulties to be encountered in doing so. For our part, we think they are very great, and not easily overcome.

It will be hard, if not impossible, to collect revenues under the Morrill Tariff on board ship. How can it be done? Bulk cannot be broken, and every separate piece examined. And how can an entire cargo be overhauled on board a ship in the offing of some Southern harbor, with a high sea running? But look at the cost of keeping up the steam fleet required for this purpose. It would be more than treble the amount of revenue collected.

Our plan would be to cut, rather than seek to unravel this Gordian knot. Let the Northern States go in for the old Jackson doctrine of free trade and direct taxation. In that way we would fight the disunionists of the South and the tax-eating politicians of the North. At one broadside we would demolish secession on the one hand and official corruption on the other. We would diminish the horde of Government officials more than one-half.

Then there would be low taxes, plenty of bread; any amount of commerce, and most flourishing manufactures throughout the land.

In that event we would not need even to blockade the Southern ports, for no trade would be done at them.

The South now taxes tea, sugar, cotton goods, and thousands of other necessaries of life. Let us have free trade, and we would cut off their revenues and compel them to tax their rich slave-holders and land owners. This would soon produce such a howl of discontent throughout the Southern States as would soon knock their Confederacy into ruins about their ears.

To meet this disunion movement something must be done, either in a peaceful or warlike manner. Count the cost and the probable result of both plans, and see if the free trade move is not far the most effective. War would no doubt alienate those people from us forever, and make secession in the end an absolute necessity.

In case of free trade the same officers that collect the State and county could collect the national taxes.

If the Government wants money let them issue certificates in small sums bearing interest at a low rate and receivable for taxes. These certificates would be current all over the Union, and being in small amounts, every man that held them would be interested in the prosperity of the country.

The difference in the tariff—the Northern and Southern—promises to cause a great deal of trouble. It works very disadvantageously to us abroad also, as the liberal European Governments are alienated from us by the Morrill tariff and attracted to the South by theirs. This is just the very thing their statesmen desire and strengthens them in their weakest point. A free trade policy on our part would knock out their under-pinning, bring them up all standing, and squelch secession in sixty days.

PECULIAR FUNCTIONS OF THE BRAIN—THE SOURCE OF SENSATION LOCATED THERE.—A London surgical journal of high authority says:

One of the readiest roads to the head is through the lungs. You may reach the brain in a minute with chloroform, for example. The power of this drug is something marvelous. When under its influence a man may have his limb cut off without any sensation whatever; and even when he recovers from the artificial trance he may still have neither pain nor uneasiness.

Why? Have you ever seen a person after a fit of epilepsy? After a fit of that kind, people have no remembrance of anything done to them during the fit. During the epileptic paroxysm, the brain is all but completely torpid. The same thing happens after the anaesthetic sleep of chloroform. In neither case can a man remember what he never felt.

But mark what may happen after amputation performed on a patient under chloroform. The same man who felt no pain in the stump either during or after the operation, may continue for many successive months to be attacked with the identical local symptoms for which his limb was removed, at the hour of the day or night when he was wont to suffer martyrdom before its removal. And more than this, if seized by his old enemy during sleep, he may wake, exclaiming, "Oh, my leg, my leg; it pains me the same as when it was on." More curious still, he may tell you he can, so far as his own feelings are concerned, actually move the foot of the amputated limb. What do these facts prove? They prove, first, that the brain is the source of all motion and all sensation, morbid or sane; they prove inversely, second, that the brain is the source of rest and remission, sleep included; they further prove, third, that the brain is the source of all paroxysmal recurrence, whether the more prominent symptoms be general or local.

BANK DEFAULTER.—One of those instances of defalcation, all too common nowadays, was detected in the Bank of Commerce a day or two since. A confusion in the accounts betrayed unseemly negligence or a lapse of honesty somewhere in the establishment, and upon investigation it was ascertained that the receiving teller, a young man named Alva G. Spear, was the delinquent. It appears that he had been in the habit of retaining a portion of the deposits as they came into his hands toward the close of the day's business, and withholding the depositor's name from the bookkeeper until the next day, when the amount was made up from some other deposit. Thus the process continued until there was an abstraction of $8,871, which became a somewhat unmanageable deficit, and detection ensued. The bank is amply secured against loss by the bond of the party. It is understood that the speculating mania was the inducement to this sad transgression.—Baltimore Sun, 5d.

WEEKLY REVIEW OF THE MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE LOUISVILLE JOURNAL,
LOUISVILLE, April 8.

There has been no important change in monetary affairs since our last report, although there has been a little more ease observable. Loans are obtainable in the street at from 10 to 12 per cent. upon first-class paper. The community will lose largely upon Illinois and Wisconsin currency, as the latter is rejected altogether by bankers, and the notes of many of the Illinois banks are also refused even at any rate of discount. This state of things is owing to the decline in the value of the stocks upon which the issues are based. Missouri State stocks, upon which the greater portion of the Illinois currency is predicated, have materially declined in New York, and there is a prospect that they will fall still lower. The notes of such Illinois banks as are taken at all are discounted at the rate of 9@10 per cent. There has been no fluctuation in exchange, which is abundant upon all points at ½ per cent. premium on New York, and par@¼ per cent. premium on New Orleans. The buying rates is par@¼ premium on the East, and ¼ per cent. discount on New Orleans. Outside of Wisconsin and Illinois bank paper, the rates for currency, which is in good supply, are unchanged. The notes of the Kentucky, Ohio, New York, Indiana, and New England banks are taken at par, Carolina, Alabama, and Georgia notes 10 ₱ cent dis. Illinois 7@10 per cent. Missouri 4 ₱ cent, Louisiana ½ ₱ cent. and Tennessee 3 per cent.

The market for land warrants is quiet again. We quote:

Buying.		Selling.
40 acres	$ .90	40 acres	$1.05
80 acres	0.75	80 acres	0.75
120 acres	0.65	120 acres	0.65
160 acres	0.6	160 acres	0.70

Transactions in the general market have been very much restricted, and especially does the remark apply to grain and breadstuffs, the immediate and pressing demand at the South having been in a great measure supplied. Groceries have been held firmly at last quotations, but the sales were limited. The receipts of tobacco have been larger than during the preceding week, as the weather has been more favorable for prizing. The provision market is quiet and the sales were small at last week's quotations, holders having little disposition to sell at present prices. Considerable rain has fallen during the present week, but the weather has become warm, clear, and seasonable. The river is rising slowly with 8 feet water in the canal.

At a late hour Saturday evening there was about six inches water in her hold, but there was every prospect that she would be kept afloat.

At Nashville on Saturday the Cumberland was rising slowly, with [illegible] inches water on the shoals.

At Fort Smith, as we learn by telegraph, on Friday the Arkansas river was rising with a prospect of 25 feet water at that point.

LOUISVILLE JOURNAL

☞The equipments for an artillery company, including three pieces of brass ordnance, were shipped Saturday on the steamer Glendale for the Confederate States.

HUMBOLDT'S LIBRARY.—The library of the late Baron von Humboldt, now for sale in London by Mr. Stevens, literary agent in London of the Smithsonian Institute, comprises some 12,000 separate works, including about 8,000 volumes, and as many pamphlets. At least 1,000 volumes are presentation copies, richly bound, and sometimes printed on the largest and finest vellum paper, in honor of the great man for whom they were designed. There is, for instance, a magnificent copy of the original edition of Barth's African travels, printed on large vellum paper, with proof plates, colored by hand, only five copies having been so taken off. One of the features of the collection are the remarks on the fly leaves of the different works, indicative of the character of the different authors by whom they were presented to Humboldt.

Thus Mr. Squier has inscribed in his book: "To Baron Humboldt, first philosopher of his age, the pioneer in American Archæological Science, from his admirer and emulator, the author—E. G. Squier, New York, United States Army, March 5, 1849." Lieutenant Maury's Sailing Directions has the words: "Baron Humboldt, from his friend, the author." In a copy of Prescott's Conquest of Peru may be seen: "A son Excellence Baron Alex. Von Humboldt, hommage de l'Auteur."

Humboldt made notes on the fly-leaves of his book, or on slips of paper placed between the leaves, but never on the margins, and generally they were in the language in which the book was written. One book, a rhapsody on his own Kosmos, he describes as "stark mad." In one volume of otherwise but ordinary interest, Humboldt has written, "A dear present of my brother William's, when I returned to Berlin, after a prolonged stay in Paris, May 1827."

Among the more intrinsically valuable works, may be mentioned a fine copy of the works of Lorenzo de Medici (Firenze, 1825), inscribed, "A Monsieur le Baron de Humboldt, Souvenir de Florence," and a superb copy of the Chalcographie du Louvre, containing nearly 5,000 plates. The collection of maps, numbering over 600, is particularly valuable, and another object of interest is the portfolio containing the diplomas received by Humboldt from various learned and scientific societies, and over 160 in number.

CHECKING PERSPIRATION.—We find in Hall's Journal of Health an excellent article on the subject of suddenly checking perspiration, and the danger attending it. The extract contains good advice, by which all our readers may profit. Says the writer, "multitudes of lives would be saved every year, and an incalculable amount of human suffering would be prevented, if parents would begin to explain to their children at the age of three or four years, the danger which attends cooling off too quickly after exercise, and the importance of not standing still after exercise, or work, or play, or of remaining exposed to wind, or of sitting at an open window or door, or of pulling off any garment, even the hat or bonnet, while in a heat. It should be remembered by all, that a cold never comes without a cause, and that in four times out of five it is the result of leaving off exercise too suddenly, or of remaining still in the wind, or in a cooler atmosphere than that in which the exercise has been taken. The colder the weather, the more need is there in coming into the house, to keep on all the clothing, except India rubbers or damp shoes, for several minutes afterwards. Very few rooms are heated higher than sixty-five degrees when the thermometer is within twenty degrees of zero, while the temperature of the body is always ninety-eight in health; so that if a man comes into a room which is thirty degrees colder than his body, he will rapidly cool off, too much so, often, even if the external clothing is not removed. It is not necessary that the perspiration be visible; any exercise which excites the circulation beyond what is natural, causes a proportional increase of perspiration, the sudden checking of which induces dangerous diseases, and certain death, every day."

DISASTROUS SNOW AVALANCHE IN CALIFORNIA.—A terrific avalanche of snow occurred at Orum Hill, Sierra county, California, on the 11th of February, by which Robert Hitsman and Peter Johnson, natives of Washington, St. Lawrence county, N. Y., were killed. Robert Moses, Marshall Hitsman, and Peter Johnson were at work at a tunnel at Orum Hill; Moses and Marshall were 1 200 feet under ground, while the others were running the car. While thus engaged, those inside the tunnel heard a terrific noise, and on learning the cause found that an avalanche of three acres of snow, five feet deep, had descended from the hill, destroying their dwelling and completely closed the mouth of the tunnel. With the aid of an ax, after six hours' labor, they emerged from the tunnel and endeavored to make their way three miles to the nearest habitation. The snow was so deep that during three hours they only proceeded 150 feet, and were compelled to return. They dug their way to an old cabin near by, and made a fire. Here they constructed snow shoes by means of clapboards, and on these they succeeded in reaching Pine Grove. Thence one hundred men went on snow shoes to the tunnel, and dug out those who had been buried beneath the cabin. When found, Robert Hitsman was dead, but Peter Johnson was alive, but died soon after being removed. He had been confined in a space just sufficient for him to breathe, and in this sepulchre he lived eighteen hours. The clergyman and those who attended the funeral were compelled to walk on snow shoes to and from the place of interment.

Statue of Goldsmith.—A statue of Goldsmith, designed by Foley, is to be placed in the open space before the college front in Dublin. According to the design, the poet is represented standing, his head slightly drooped, as in meditation, his left hand holding a book or tablet, and his right hand, which is raised towards his face, holds a pencil. There is no cloak or drapery. The large and massive head, and heavy, immobile features of Goldsmith render him a difficult subject to the sculptor.

HOME AND EUROPEAN DEMAND!

IT IS

PROF. WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE!

See what a distinguished St. Louis Physician says of it:

ST. LOUIS, July 10, 1860.

O. J. WOOD, Esq.: Dear Sir: Allow me the pleasure and satisfaction to transmit to you the beneficial effects of your Hair Restorative, after a trial of five years. I commenced using your Restorative in January, 1855, since which time I have not been without a bottle on hand. When I commenced the use, my hair was quite thin, and at least one-third gray. A few applications stopped its falling, and in three weeks' time there was not a gray hair to be found, neither has there been up to this time.

After my hair was completely restored, I continued its use by applying two or three times per month. My hair has ever continued healthy, soft, and glossy, and my scalp perfectly free from dandruff. I do not imagine the facts above mentioned will be of any particular advantage to you, or even flatter your vanity at this late day, as I am well aware they are all well known already, and even more wonderful ones, throughout the Union. I have occupied my time in traveling the greater part of the time the past three years, and have taken pride and pleasure in recommending your Restorative, and exhibiting its effects in my own case. In several instances I have met with people that have pronounced it a humbug, saying they had used it and without effect. In every instance, however, it proved, by probing the matter, that they had not used your article at all, but had used some new article, said to be as good as yours, and selling at about half the price. I have noticed two or three articles myself, advertised as above, which I have no doubt are humbugs. It is astonishing that people will patronize an article of no reputation, when there is one at hand that has been proved beyond a doubt.

Apparently, some of those charlatans have not brains enough to write an advertisement, as I notice they have copied yours, word for word, in several instances, merely inserting some other name in place of yours.

I have within the past five years, seen and talked with more than two thousand persons that have used your preparation with perfect success—some for baldness, gray hair, scald head, dandruff, and every disease the scalp and head are subject to.

I called to see you, personally, at your original place of business here, but learned you were now living in New York.

Yours, truly,
JAMES WHITE, M. D.

WARREN SPRINGS, Perry county, Pa.,
June 7th, 1860.

PROF. WOOD: Dear Sir:—I was induced, more than a year ago, to try your valuable Hair Restorative, for the purpose of cleansing my head of dandruff. I had suffered with it upon my head for years, and had never been able to get anything to do me any good in removing it, although I had tried many preparations, until I saw your advertisement in a Harrisburg paper. Being there at the time, I called at Gross & Kunkle's drug store, and bought a bottle, and am now prepared to recommend it to universal use; for it has completely removed all dandruff from my head, and an application once in two weeks keeps it free from any itching or other unpleasantness. I must also state that my hair had become quite white in places, and by the use of your preparation has been restored to its original color. I am now 52 years of age, and although I have used two bottles of the Restorative, no one has any knowledge of it, as I allow a few gray hairs to remain, in order to have my appearance comport with my age. My head is now of no trouble to me, in keeping it clean, &c., than at any time since I have been a child. I consider your preparation of great value, and although I do not like to expose myself, I consider it my duty to say so. You can use this, or any part of it, in any shape you think proper, if it is worth anything to you.

Yours, &c., H. ETTER.

BLOOMINGTON, IND., July 8th, 1860.

DEAR SIR:—I here send you a statement that I think you are entitled to the benefit of. I am a resident of Bloomington, and have been for over thirty years. I am now over 80 years of age. For about twenty years past, my hair has been turning considerably gray, and was almost entirely white, and very thin and unpliant. I had seen a number of certificates of the very wonderful effect of your Hair Restorative, and thought that there was more fiction than truth in them; but entertaining a strong desire to have my hair, if possible, restored to its original color and fineness, as it was in my younger days a beautiful black, I concluded I would make the experiment, and, accordingly, I purchased one of your small bottles, at one dollar, and commenced using, following directions as nearly as I could. I soon discovered the dandruff removed, and my hair, which was falling off in large quantities, was considerably lightened, and a radical change taking place in the color. I have continued to use it, till I have used three of your small bottles, and just begun on the fourth. I have now as pretty a head of dark brown or light black hair as any man, or as I had in my youthful days, when a boy in the hills of Western Virginia. My head is entirely free of dandruff, and the hair ceased entirely falling off, and is as soft and fine, and feels as oily, as though it was just from under the hands of a French champooer. Many of my acquaintances frequently say to me, "Butler, where did you get that fine wig?" I tell them it is the effect of your Restorative. It is almost impossible to convince them that it is the original hair of the same old gray head.

Yours, truly,
FREDERICK T. BUTLER,
Bloomington, Monroe county, Indiana.

PROF. O. J. WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE

Is the only reliable article for you to use,

FOR STATESMEN, JUDGES, CLERGYMEN,

Ladies and gentlemen, in all parts of the world, testify to the efficacy of Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, and gentlemen of the press are unanimous in its praise. A few testimonials only can be here given; see circular for more, and it will be impossible for you to doubt.

PROFESSOR S. THALBERG, PIANIST, says on his arrival in the United States he was rapidly becoming gray, but on applying Wood's Hair Restorative his hair soon recovered its original hue.

CHARLES CARDEW, 13 NASSAU STREET, N. Y.,

says the gray hairs on his wife's head were, after a few weeks' trial, turned into a dark brown, at the same time beautifying and thickening the hair.

A. C. RAYMOND, BATH, MAINE, says he is now sixty years old, and his hair and whiskers were two-thirds gray, but by the use of two bottles of Restorative, the gray hairs have disappeared, both on his head and face, and is more soft and glossy than for twenty-five years previous. His wife, at the age of fifty-two, has used it with the same effect.

FINLEY JOHNSON, ESQ., NEW ORLEANS,

says that he lost his hair by the Yellow Fever, in 1854. He used Wood's Hair Restorative, and his hair is now thick and glossy.

M. J. MIDDLETON, LIVINGSTON, ALABAMA, says the Restorative has done much good in his part of the country. He used it for baldness, and now has a fine head of hair.

T. L. MORSE, LEBANON, KENTUCKY, says he has seen Wood's Hair Restorative used in hundreds of cases, and never knew it to fail in accomplishing all it professes to do.

A. J. ALDEN, McLANESBORO', ILLINOIS, says he had the scald head eight years, and was bald, but by the liberal use of Wood's Hair Restorative, he now has a rich, glossy head of hair.

LIGONIER, Noble co., Ind., Feb. 5, 1859.

Prof. O. J. Wood—Dear Sir: In the latter part of the year 1852, while attending the State and National Law School of the State of New York, my hair, from a cause unknown to me, commenced falling off very rapidly, so that in the short space of six months the whole upper part of my scalp was almost entirely bereft of its covering, and much of the remaining portion upon the side and back part of my head shortly after became gray, so that you will not be surprised when I tell you that upon my return to the State of Indiana my more casual acquaintances were not so much at a loss to discover the cause of the change in my appearance as my more intimate acquaintances were to recognize me at all.

I at once made application to the most skillful physicians in the country, but, receiving no assurance from them that my hair could again be restored, I was forced to become reconciled to my fate, until, fortunately, in the latter part of the year 1857, your Restorative was recommended to me by a druggist as being the most reliable Hair Restorative in use. I tried one bottle, and found to my great satisfaction that it was producing the desired effect. Since that time, I have used seven dollars' worth of your Restorative, and as a result have a rich coat of very soft black hair, which no money can buy.

As a mark of my gratitude for your labor and skill in the production of so wonderful an article, I have recommended its use to many of my friends and acquaintances, who, I am happy to inform you, are using it with like effect.

Very respectfully, yours,
A. M. LATTA,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law.

THE TRUE AND GENUINE

Entered according to Act of Congress, in the year 1857, by Baker & Co., in the Clerk's Office of the District Court of the United States for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania.

UNSURPASSED IN QUALITY AND EFFECTS.

BAKER & CO'S MEDICINAL TRANSPARENT COD LIVER OIL.

OLEUM MORRHUÆ

BEING THE SWEETEST AND BEST PREPARED

Its use, if fairly tried, will soon restore the tone of the digestive organs, invigorate the blood, give general rotundity to the figure, and add energy to the mind and nervous system. Its value has been remarkably evidenced by its wonderful restorative powers, when ordinary tonics had been vainly exhausted. It affords nourishment to the body when no other can be borne, and furnishes the frame with fat in a truly remarkable manner.

For CONSUMPTION and BRONCHITIS,
For SCROFULA in all its developments,
For WEAKNESS, WASTING, and every form of DEBILITY, its curative properties are unrivalled.

It may be taken without disrelish by the most delicate patient, and retained without effort by the most sensitive stomach. Its superiority in this and other important characteristics of genuineness has guaranteed for it the commendation of the most eminent Physicians throughout the States; the written testimony of the faculty of the best medical schools; the Professors of the

UNIVERSITY OF PENNSYLVANIA,
JEFFERSON COLLEGE OF PHILADELPHIA,
PHILADELPHIA COLLEGE OF MEDICINE, and others.

Invalids should be careful to purchase oil of undoubted reputation if they desire the most active and immediate advantages of the remedy. That which we prepare has decided evidences of superiority over other brands. Manufactured only by
